Political Crisis Overshadows Military Activities In Balkans

London, Nov. 5.—The all night meeting of the Greek chamber of commerce, the new attack of former Premier Venizelos on the policy of the government and his criticism of King Constantine's interference with "constitutional liberties" of the Greek people are recent stages of the new political crisis which for the time being has overshadowed the military situation in the Balkans. According to latest information from Athens the King is expected to continue the Zaimis cabinet and dissolve parliament rather than accept the other alternative of permitting M. Venizelos to return to power.

The invading Bulgarians are reported to have reached a point six miles northeast of Nish and to have advanced among the hills east and southeast of the city to positions almost as near.

Athens, Nov. 5. (Via London, Nov. 5).—King Constantine has summoned leaders of all parties to confer on the situation resulting from the overthrow of Zaimis cabinet and it is expected the ministerial crisis will end within 24 hours.

Athens, Nov. 5. (Via London).—One of the statements of M. Venizelos, which attracted especial attention in the chamber of deputies today was that Great Britain's offer to cede the island of Cyprus to Greece was independent of the result of the war while other promises of concessions were conditional on the success of the allies. Greece, he said, was to acquire part of the Vilayet of Brusa and Bulgarian Thrace while Bulgaria was to be shorn of the territory she gained as a result of the Balkan war. All this he declared, would be obtained by Greece at small cost, since the proposals of the entente powers required only the assistance of smaller units of the Greek fleet.

Referring to the allegation that Serbia had failed to send against the Bulgarians 150,000 men in accordance with the provisions of that treaty with the alliance, M. Venizelos said she actually had 130,000 troops opposed to the Bulgarians. If Greece had taken the field, the former premier asserted, her army today would have been within a short distance of Sofia, and Serbia could have devoted her energies to holding back the Austro-Germans, whose numbers were far greater.

New York, Nov. 5.—President Wilson opened the administration campaign for its national defense program in a comprehensive and carefully prepared address delivered here last night at the Manhattan Club banquet. He declared solemnly that the United States had not aggressive purposes, but must be prepared to defend itself to assure "full liberty and self development."

Significantly, he said that "with ourselves in this great matter we associate all the peoples of our own hemisphere," adding that "we wish not only for the United States but for them the fullest freedom of independent growth of action."

The president was received with enthusiastic applause as he entered the banquet hall and during his address. The hall was decorated with American flags and filled even to the galleries with Democrats happy over their victory of Tuesday in New York City. When the president arose to speak, every one jumped up and applauded until he was forced to signal for quiet.

"Within a year," said the president, "we have witnessed what we did not think possible, a great European conflict involving many of the greatest nations of the world. The influences of the great war are everywhere in the air. All Europe is in battle. Force everywhere speaks out with a loud and imperious voice in a titanic struggle of government, and from end of our own dear country to the other men are asking one another what our own force is, how far we are prepared to maintain ourselves against any interference with our national action or development."

The president called upon "men of all shades of political opinion" to rally to the spirit of progress and warning that "if men differ with me in this vital matter, I shall ask them to make it clear how far and in what way they are interested in making the permanent interests of the country safe against disturbance."

There is no need for the country to feel panic-stricken, the president declared, because it stands in friendly relations with the world. He spoke of the United States as "a nation too big and generous to be exacting, but yet courageous enough to defend its rights and the liberties of its people wherever assailed or involved."

Outlining the defense program, the president said it included an increased standing army, the training within the next three years of 400,000 citizen-soldiers to be raised in annual forces of 133,000 and the strengthening of the naval guard. He laid particular emphasis on the need of ample equipment.

The president declared that the navy already is a "very great and efficient force," but that in order to bring to a point of "extraordinary force and efficiency" a definite policy must be adopted and hastened and an adequate supply of men provided.

In addition to speaking on national defense the president attacked "men who love other countries better than America" and men who stir up religious and sectarian antagonism. He declared that such men would be "called to a reckoning."

President's Speech
The president said in part: "Mr. Toastmaster and Gentlemen:—I warmly felicitate the club upon the completion of fifty years of successful and interesting life. This life may be made to mean a great deal to those who know how to use it. I have no doubt that to a great many of you have some genuine stimulation in the associations of this place and that as the years have multiplied you have seen more and more the usefulness which may be served by organizations of this sort."

"But I have not come to speak (Continued On Page Six)

MEN CAST VOTE WITH AS LITTLE FORETHOUGHT AS BUYING A SUIT SAYS PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 5.—Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of President Wilson, told the Wisconsin State Teachers' association here today that the majority of voters cast their ballots with as little forethought as they give to buying a suit, and proposed as a remedy the use of supreme court buildings as meeting places for citizens and as voting booths and the employment of supreme court principals as election clerks. She said the people should be organized according to the voting precincts with the supreme court buildings as their centers.

"Let us make the vote mean something all of us, men and women together," said Miss Wilson. "It is disgraceful the way the majority of voters vote. I am told that when a man gets a suit he gets what the tailor tells him to wear. That is what most voters do in the primaries. They vote for the man who 'they say' is the man 'they' being in this case, the political bosses. We know this but have done little so far except talk about it."

Miss Wilson said "it surely is America's opportunity before all other nations to prove that the ideal of democracy is more than a dream, that it is principle that works. She added that self government is "nothing more or less process of education." Miss Wilson said that her proposals to use supreme court principals as election clerks and secretaries of community social centers were not impractical, most of them having been tried successfully in Wisconsin. She said she believed democracy could not be obtained through a machine but that "we must have the means of expressing ourselves as citizens in a more vital way."

VILLA MASSING AN ARMY OF 13,000 MEN AMERICANS ARE HELD

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 5.—The four Americans, Dr. R. H. Thigpen, Dr. James Wilson, J. D. Pyland and S. A. L. Wilson, reported yesterday by General Villa as having been killed in the battle of Agua Prieta, are prisoners at Villa Verde, according to George Snow, driver of an automobile truck, who arrived at Naco, Arizona, today.

Naco, Ariz., Nov. 5.—With the statement by Gen. Francisco Villa that he was on his way to Hermosillo and was busy assembling provisions for his men at Villa Verde, the center of interest in the border hostilities between Mexican factions today shifted to the south. On the roads stretching south and southeast from Naco, Villa said he had 13,000 troops, which he was planning to concentrate along the line of march to the southwest metropolis.

In the face of Villa's reiterated assurances that no property in the Cuernavaca mining district would be molested, it was reported that the Cuernavaca Consolidated Copper company paid $25,000 for immunity. Conflicting reports were received here concerning looting and destruction of property in this district.

Condition Normal
Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 5.—Conditions here were rapidly assuming normal proportions today. With the exodus of the last Villa forces from this section, work of clearing the battle field of dead and wounded was proceeding.

Most of the 3000 refugees who sought shelter in Douglas and the surrounding towns during the battle between Carranza and Villa forces have returned to their homes on the Mexican side.

American ranchers have sought federal assistance to prevent the return of their horses which were stolen to Mexico. They claimed that Calles raiding parties had driven 1500 head across the border during the last few weeks.

Refused Exemption
Columbus, O., Nov. 5.—Refusal to exempt the two inspectors employed by the state liquor licensing board was given today by the state civil service commission.

The licensing authorities had requested this action, saying they could get better men without being compelled to take them from the civil service elimination lists. It is necessary to keep secret the identity of the inspectors the state board explained, as an additional reason for exempting them from classified civil service rules.

Columbus, O., Nov. 5.—The State Industrial Commission today made these appointments:—Fred Otto Heim, Cincinnati, Republican, pay roll auditor, $1200, provisional; Anton F. Ruhl, Lebanon, Democrat, librarian, for thirty days, provisional, $900 a year; C. O. Myers, Butler county, formerly of Ross county, Republican, deputy boiler inspector for the Chillicothe district, $1800; Thomas Hosty, Cincinnati, Republican, inspector department of work shops, factories and public buildings, $1200, provisional.

ASK FAVOR OF WILLIS
Columbus, O., Nov. 5.—Mrs. James R. Hopley, of Bucyrus, was chairman of a delegation of women representing the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, which called on Governor Willis today to urge the appointment of Mrs. Sara Douglas, of Lima, as superintendent of the Marysville Reformatory for Women. The governor explained that Mrs. Douglas stood fourth on the civil service eligible list and consequently had not been certified by the state civil service commission to the board of administration for appointment. He said the board had authority to make the appointment.

IN RECEIVERS' HANDS
Chicago, Nov. 5.—Suit in foreclosure has been filed against "White City," Chicago's oldest amusement park and appointment of a receiver will be asked today.

The park is the fourth in Chicago to go into the hands of receivers since the close of the season.

KITCHENER HAS NOT RESIGNED

London, Nov. 5.—Official denial was made today of a report that Earl Kitchener, secretary of war, had resigned. The announcement follows: "During Lord Kitchener's temporary absence on public duty the prime minister is carrying on the work at the war office. There is no truth in the statement that Lord Kitchener has resigned."

BELIEVE FIRE NOT SERIOUS

New York, Nov. 5.—No word concerning the British steamer Rio Lages, reported on fire 300 miles south of Halifax, N. S., had been received here today by the steamer's local agents, Simpson, Spence and Young. The agents expressed the belief that the fire was not serious as the Rio Lages apparently did not request the Frederick VII which sighted the distressed steamer, to stand by, but merely to notify Halifax by radio. The Rio Lages sailed from New York for Queenstown October 27 with a cargo of sugar. The local agents denied today that the steamer carried munitions.

War Order

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 5.—Announcement was made here today that the LaBelle Iron Works of Wheeling, had just closed a contract with agents of the entente allies for war munitions amounting to $12,000,000. The steel, it was said, would probably be rolled by the Wheeling Iron and Steel Co.

NAVY'S BOTTLED UP, BUT GERMANY KEEPS ON BUILDING BATTLESHIPS

Launching German cruiser Hindenburg.

GERMAN FORCES BATTER HILLS INTO SHAPELESS MASSES

Saloniki, Nov. 3.—Via Paris, Nov. 5. (Delayed).—Serbia resistance to the Austro-German drive is of the most heroic character, according to travelers who have arrived here from the front.

While the forces under Field Marshal von Mackensen number only 150,000 they are supplied with such a tremendous weight of artillery that they are able to batter the very hills into shapeless masses with shells from their 12-inch mortars and keep up a constant cloudburst of shrapnel under which the Serbs are forced to retire slowly without even seeing their antagonists. The native troops, especially in mountain fighting, take advantage of every natural position, however, forcing the Austro-Germans to dislodge them and giving no ground until compelled to do so. Their spirit is courageous but desperate.

Another Advance In Oil

Pittsburgh, Nov. 5.—Another advance in the price of all grades of crude oil was announced at the opening of the market here today by the South Pennsylvania Oil Co., five cents a barrel being added to each, except Ragland, which was quoted three cents higher. The new prices are:—Pennsylvania Crude, $1.55; Mercer black, New Castle and Corning, $1.35; Cabell, $1.40; Somerset, $1.27; Hagland, 68 cents.

Producers who have been following the trend of the market since prices began to advance several months ago, predicted $2 for Pennsylvania crude, the base of this market before next spring.

ELECTED TO TWO OFFICES

Frederick, O., Nov. 5.—A peculiar development in Tuesday's election came to light today when it became known that voters in Rice township elected Moses Gross and Joseph Young to be both justice of the peace, and Constable. Gross is reported as saying Young could be constable when he was on the bench and would be constable when Young was on the bench. The secretary of state will be asked for a ruling as to whether the men may legally hold both offices.

CLAIMS IT MENACE TO PEACE AND REVERSAL OF U. S. POLICY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—Former Secretary Bryan came out squarely against President Wilson on the national defense plan today in a formal statement on which he took issue with the president's views as expressed last night before the Manhattan Club in New York.

A departure from our traditions, a reversal of our national policy, a menace to our peace and a challenge to the spirit of Christianity which teaches us to influence by example rather than by exciting fear, was Mr. Bryan's view on the national defense plans.

The former secretary of state's statement, which reiterates views he has previously expressed on the subject of preparedness for war, was regarded as the opening gun in the fight which administration leaders expect in congress against adoption of the plan. Mr. Bryan's statement says:—

"I have read the president's speech at New York with sorrow and concern. He is doing what he believes to be his duty, and so long as a man follows his conscience and judgment, we cannot criticize his motives, but we may be compelled to dissent from his conclusions. I feel it my duty to dissent, and as he has given his views with clearness and emphasis, those who differ from him are under a like obligation to express themselves with equal clearness."

He says that his position is different from that of the private individual in that the individual is free to speak his own thoughts, and risk his own opinion. This sentence is a little obscure. Insofar as he expresses his own opinion, he does not differ from the private citizen except that he speaks under a sense of official responsibility, but where a nation's fate is involved in a policy every private citizen who loves his country and tries to serve it is conscious of responsibility. The president will not assume that he is more deeply interested in the welfare of his country than the millions who elected him to be, for the time being, their spokesman. And if he is evidently believes, he is giving voice to the opinions of his countrymen, he is, of course, anxious to have them as frank with him as he has been (Continued on Page Nine).

Billy Butt In Times Weather Man

One consolation we can all get out of the voting on constitutional amendments the other day is that nobody won. I reckon when women get to voting the 'homely man and the fat man' won't stand a ghost of a show for election office. That's the reason why so many men ain't strong for suffrage. Here's for tomorrow:

Ohio—Fair tonight, somewhat cooler in northeast portion. Saturday increasing cloudiness and warmer. Probably rain in south portion.

Kentucky—Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday. Probably rain Saturday.

West Virginia—Fair tonight, somewhat cooler east portion. Saturday increasing cloudiness and warmer.

MAYOR SENDS LETTER TO JAMES P. BRENNAN

Mayor Erick Friday morning gave out for publication a letter which he had addressed to James P. Brennan, well known Democrat, of the First ward, who was opposed to the mayor's re-election, in which he replied to some statements he alleged Mr. Brennan had made during the recent campaign. The Mayor's letter follows:

November 4th, 1915.
Mr. James P. Brennan, City.

Dear Sir:—Often preceding the election advice came to me that you were making the claim that I requested you to accept the office of director of safety; that you had agreed to so accept, providing you were to have exclusive right to engage and discharge employees necessary to carry on the work; that you had prepared to take over the duties and that later you were not given the position.

This, in the interest of that class of citizenship who believe in truth and justice, should not be permitted to go unnoticed. Therefore, it seems but right for me to say that none better than yourself know such to be the most premeditated and malicious falsehood ever uttered by one classed in the human family.

The great public whom I am serving, as well as the party you were at that time affiliated with, did not want you to occupy any such post, and in respect to them you were not tendered a position of any kind. You were, however, consulted, as to whom you would like to gather your garbage.

Be reminded that at that time you were going to be Postmaster of this city, and because your committee, of which you were the head, and with which I was not affiliated, would not endorse you, you now seem to seek revenge against me. Because you no longer have the standing that you once had in your political subdivision you should not charge such up to another who has never thought of using you or your name with disrespect, and I withheld whatever I had to say in the cause until after the election. In so doing you could not charge me with trying to interfere or influence you, neither can it be said that you were prevented in making any claim to your associates that your influence was injured in securing votes for them. This because it was not, neither is it now, my opinion that your influence added more than one vote against me, and inasmuch as I have as yet, neither shall I ever, solicit support for any public office, the precedent could not, in your case be set aside.

Your claim is in similar accord with that of Dr. E. O. McCall, who said that the mayor could not rest until he, as the physician, was discharged from attending the late Chief McCarty, whose illness resulted in his death. Nothing was much farther from the truth than an assertion of that kind. The facts are obtainable from the bereaved family.

Likewise in harmony with all this were the stump orations and eloquent hour printed matter, as in your case, done for political effect, united with which was the ridiculous argument of disappointed office-seekers.

Bear in mind that your mayor received the largest vote ever cast for a candidate for this office when presented before the public by your party, very much in excess of my worthy colleagues who drew a very heavy vote, and against whom I understand you hold no grievance. You will agree with me, I hope, that it is a source of much gratification to know the class of electors that so crossed themselves in favor of the moral, the social, the civic, the industrial and the economic welfare of their community.

Pardon me for addressing you at such length, but the subject matter could not be presented in less space.

Respectfully submitted,
ADAM FRICK, Mayor.

The Movies

Charlotte Walker in "Out of the Darkness," Paramount Production, Columbia Tonight.

Tonight is regular Paramount night at the Columbia and Charlotte Walker in "Out of the Darkness," is easily one of the best of all Paramount productions.

It is a most beautiful as well as a most interesting story of conditions of working girls with a story as follows:

Synopsis

Helen Scott, a beautiful young woman of society, is the owner of the Scott Cannery, a business which nets her great profit but in the management of which she does not take any interest, placing her affairs in the hands of an uncle. Frequently, the terrible conditions under which the women employed in the Cannery are compelled to work are brought to Helen's attention but she frivolously casts them aside.

While sailing one night in a small boat off the Florida coast, the craft is run down by a steamer and Helen, on her rescue is found to be seriously injured by a blow on her head. She recovers her physical strength, but her memory is gone and she cannot tell her name. Kind friends care for her and obtain a position for her in the Scott Cannery.

There she experiences the terrible working conditions which she formerly in the old life had refused to better. Harvey Brooks, a young superintendent, who is interested in bettering conditions, takes an interest in Helen. They fall in love. Slowly, Helen's memory returns and she at last declares herself the owner of the factory, and by promise of immediately eradicating the evils she thwarts a great strike which would have ruined her. Brooks, the superintendent, and Helen work out their scheme of betterment together.

"The Juggernaut" Vitagraph's Smashing Railroad Feature With Anita Stewart and Earle Williams at the Lyric Tonight

That stupendous "wreck" story "The Juggernaut" in five thrilling reels will be the feature at the Lyric tonight and it will be your last chance to see the most astounding piece of photography ever accomplished. Anita Stewart and Earle Williams are the stars in the big dramatic story that is woven around this thrilling, hair-raising scene. Come and see it. The admission will be only ten cents.

Tomorrow brings another extraordinary offering in Porter Emerson Browne's big, human drama of today, "The Spenhithrift," with beautiful Irene Fenwick starring and supported by a cast of all recognized Broadway stars including Cyril Kiehl, Malcolm Duncan and Matty Ferguson. The story of "The Spenhithrift" is powerful, dramatic and every detail of the picture is perfect.

Who has reared the perfect child? Who has successfully combated the destiny-shaping factors of heredity and environment with a theoretical code of child-raising warranted never to fail?

Mrs. Gretchen Jans, mistress of millions, failed. Her two pretty nieces, Frances and Charlie were taught to sew and mend, economize and retrench, not alone in clothes and money but in thought and emotion as well. "Plug up the fountain of youth" was the harsh, Puritanical code of Gretchen Jans, and Frances paid the penalty with heart-aches.

Hence, when Richard Ward fell in love with Frances and Mrs. Jans refused the parental blessing, the young couple did what most young couples do—set off post-haste for the nearest personage. And then into the life of Frances came the great change.

A comfortable allowance didn't reach. Money ran like rays of sunshine in a golden stream through the fingers of both hands. Richard couldn't keep up the maintenance regularly only squabbled by the decrease of his bills receivable. Credit weakened, the specter of poverty grined through the office door and the riotous waste of the girl who had been denied continued unabated.

And then came the second man, with his offer of money and the trail of suffering and self-abuse that followed in its wake. It seemed all very innocent to Frances but it was tragedy to Richard. Go and see "The Spenhithrift." Through six enchanting reels you will watch the lesson hammered home with a truth and force and

find "yours"

Get all the smoke-pleasure you pay for.
Find the right cigarette—a SENSIBLE one that fits your own likes and dislikes.

It may or may not be Fatima

—but this will help you find it.

Tastes differ—in fashions, foods and pretty girls.
Also in cigarettes.

A cigarette that started out to please every man's taste would end up by pleasing none.

Most of us like our cigarette smoke deliciously cool and refreshing. The Mexican likes his hot and dry, with a nice little peppery sting in it.

Some men like a cigarette wholesomely, fragrantly mild. Others of us hunt for a cigarette almost as heavy as a black cigar.

Most of us want an "easy" cigarette—a SENSIBLE one, so that no matter how steadily or how many we smoke, we'll feel as fit as a fiddle. Other men, though, don't care about that. They smoke only a few—so they want a kick like a mule's in each puff.

All of us want our smoke "full-bodied"—it must satisfy that smoke-hunger. But the cigarette that just fills the bill for you may not do at all for your next-door neighbor.

Somewhere—among all the brands on the market—is the one just-right cigarette for YOU!

Maybe it's the very one you have now in your pocket—but are you SURE? Maybe it's some entirely "different" cigarette—it may or may not be Fatima.

But "find it!" Until you do, you're cheating yourself out of a whole lot of smoke-pleasure. Also you're wasting some money.

How to Find "yours"

To avoid blindly trying too many different cigarettes, ask yourself, first of all, this question:

"Just what do I like in a cigarette?"

If you smoke only a few every day, you may prefer a cigarette which is rather rich or heavy and "oily." Or you may like one which has a rather strong "oriental" taste with a pungency almost like perfume. Or you may want a cigarette with that noticeably "sweetish" Egyptian flavor. But if you smoke quite often—if you would like to smoke whenever you feel like it and without any effect on the tongue or throat or any fear of a heavy or "heady" feeling afterwards—then you should choose some cigarette such as Fatima, a cigarette composed of all-pure tobaccos of considerable aroma, mellowed by being aged and carefully blended to produce a fragrant and wholesomely mild, yet "full-bodied," smoke. And the smoke must be noticeably COOL. For otherwise your tongue or your throat will soon signal you to stop smoking so often.

If you will ask any Fatima smoker, he will tell you that Fatimas never make him "feel mean"—no matter how many he smokes.

That is why Fatimas are considered the most sensible cigarette by such a large majority of smokers. And that is probably the main reason why hardly any Fatima smokers ever switch! They like a sensible cigarette—and one with a good, pure taste to it.

But the Taste is up to You

All cigarettes are pure, but when it comes to the taste, nobody can help you choose. You simply have to decide for yourself.

Of course, Fatima's taste may not appeal to you. But most men who try Fatimas like the taste so well that they seek no further—otherwise Fatimas could never have won and held their enormous and growing leadership amounting to over one and a half BILLION cigarettes a year.

The one purpose of this advertisement is to ask you in a fair and square way to give Fatimas (20 for 15c) a good trial. If they don't happen to suit your taste, you'll quit smoking them of course. But if you like Fatimas as well as MOST men do, you'll be mighty glad you read this advertisement—and ACTED ON IT!

Below are two simple tests which you can easily make and which may help you find your sensible cigarette.

It may or may not be Fatima. But be fair to yourself and find "yours."

TWO TESTS FOR ANY CIGARETTE

The taste of the cigarette—according to a leading tobacco journal—is up to the smoker. But there are other qualities that you should look for in the cigarette that you are going to stick to for your steady smoke. Here are a couple of tests that may help the average smoker to choose more wisely between different kinds of cigarettes.

The first test is for coolness, which means more comfort to the throat and tongue. Light any cigarette. Draw in a cloud of smoke to make this test. Hold it in your mouth against your tongue for a few seconds. Now blow out the smoke. If the cigarette contains a high grade of mild tobacco leaves, combined in just the right proportion, it will always feel cool and smooth both to your throat and to your tongue.

On the other hand, if the proportions are not right and if the cigarette contains inferior grades of tobacco or hidden strands of stalk, you will feel a stinging sting at the tip of your tongue or that "sandpaper-like" in your throat. Test number two—How do you feel after smoking all day?

If the tobacco in the cigarette includes a correct proportion of mild grades—and is so blended as to bring out the best qualities in each of the different types of tobaccos, you will be able to smoke practically without feeling any effect from it. The day without cigarette in which the blend is less skillful, even though the tobacco are of the highest grade, you will find along towards the end of the day that you are likely to have that feeling of having "smoked too much."

Clip out these tests and try them on Fatima

Victory At Polls Celebrated Friday

Members of the Business Men's League of Scioto county and the Scioto County Liquor League enjoyed a pig roast at Eagles' hall this afternoon in celebration of the wet victory in the state and county last Tuesday. An excellent informal banquet was served to over a hundred members of the two organizations, followed by a social session. Speeches were made by Samuel Horchow, J. J. Orlett, St. Straus, Paul Esselborn, and Jos. Switalski, the manager of the campaign. In connection with his talk Mr. Switalski submitted a complete financial statement of the campaign. Others were called upon for a few remarks.

THIEVES GET PIPE

Unknown parties broke into the empty house belonging to Phil Streich on the southeast corner of Eighth and Washington streets Friday morning and took a quantity of lead pipe and brass faucets. Police are investigating.

AFFIDAVIT IS FILED

Leon Richey passing samples of corn flakes refused to give Chuck Bostwick several packages, Friday afternoon and Bostwick hit him, it is claimed. Richey chased Bostwick with a brick up Second street, it is alleged but Bostwick escaped in his delivery wagon. Richey filed an affidavit against Bostwick in police court late Friday.

The preliminary hearing of Claud Rose, alias Skaty Jones, colored, arrested last Saturday on a warrant charging him with pointing fire-arms, preferred by William Dalton, also colored, was held before Squire John W. Byron, Thursday evening. He pleaded not guilty, and his hearing was continued until Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. In the meantime he is confined in the county jail.

Rose and Dalton have been employed in a labor gang on the N. & W. near Clifford. Dalton claims that he and Rose became involved in an altercation last Friday, during which Rose pulled his gun and threatened to shoot him.

RACE TRACK

Directors of the Scioto County Agricultural Society who are in session this afternoon at Lucasville, have up for discussion the advisability of enlarging the present one-third mile race track to a half-mile course. If it is decided to enlarge the track, work will be started immediately, so that it will be completed before cold weather sets in.

APPOINTED

Official confirmation of the appointment of Edward Cunningham, of the West Side, as deputy county auditor of weights and measures, was made by Sampson D. Eckhart, county auditor, Friday morning. The board of county commissioners passed a resolution fixing his salary at $85.00 a month, with no allowance for expenses. The board claims that the salary and expenses of John Zeune, Cunningham's predecessor, has been aggregating $125 to $150 a month. It was also announced that Cunningham would devote his entire time to his duties, and would assist with the work in the auditor's office when needed.

Big Western Feature at Majestic Theater Tonight

One of those thrilling dramas of Western life will be produced at the Majestic theater tonight in "The Little Lumber Jack," a two reel movie, and a play that will interest all those who love excitement. This play has just been released and is a guaranteed attraction. Come and see it. Following "The Little Lumber Jack," the Majestic will show two side-splitting comedies, entitled, "Help, Help," a "Tian," and "The Root of All Evil."

a pleasant sense of reality possible only to so accomplish an artist as Miss Irene Fenwick.

The Exhibit

"Under Two Flags", in three thousand feet of film, a story by Onida, is the headline here today. It is here we meet Cigarette, the pet of the army, and follow the fortunes of Bertie Cecil, who left England because of the scandal caused by his brother's gambling. As a French soldier he incurs the wrath of Black Hawk and sentenced to death for striking a superior officer. Cigarette undertakes to save him. She rides across the desert for the pardon. Caught in a sand storm, her horse is blinded and fagged to exhaustion, and she is aided by her enemies, the Arabs. She reaches the soldiers' quarters just in time to throw herself before the condemned man and falls under the shots intended for him.

You should see this as it is one of the greatest.

The day's program also includes "The Fables" of the Scoffer. Mr. Palfrey was a beetle on base ball. But one Sunday he was hooked in for golf. After trailing behind numerous bugs for eighteen holes he stood off and smiled in a superior manner, saying he would like to swat the robin's egg just once. And it wasn't long before he had a complete supply of clubs. He took lessons from a professional. He gave up business and consecrated himself to his life work. After eight years, at a cost of $18,000, Palfrey won a trophy.

At the Strand

Agnes Vernon stars in "The Deceivers," two reel Gold Seal photo drama, assisted by Mardock MacQuarrie. In "The Deceivers" a bank cashier forces a girl who loves him to act as his tool in a daring robbery. Because of her great love for him, she consents, but in the end, her better self triumphs, and she delivers the man she loves into the hands of the police.

A genuine treat is assured all who see "Seeking an Inspiration," Powers split-reel tropical and educational film. The first half is a vaudeville act, especially posed for by Elsie La Barg, famous European vaudeville star. Second half is of a big convention of B. P. O. Elks at their fifty-first reunion at Los Angeles, Cal., on July 9th, 1915.

King Baggot at the Arcana Theater Tonight!

King Baggot, the Universal star, and regarded by many lovers of the movies as the star of all stars will be seen at the Arcana tonight in a two reel production written by himself and laughter from the rise of the first curtain until the fall of the last. The lines of the comedy were very witty and the situations most amusing. The comedy has to do with a newly married man, played by Mr. Dalley, who has a jealous wife, played by Miss Winner, this leading into other matrimonial difficulties for the other members. It was just one long, loud laugh and was funny enough to drive away all the worries and cares of the election. The comedy will be played again tonight and Saturday matinee and night.

The first series of "Get Rich Quick Wallingford" will be shown tonight and to those who have followed Wallingford in the pages of the leading magazines will have the opportunity to see these same stories acted out, and they will prove a delight to the eye of the "Movie Lover."

Pimples Disappear

There is one remedy that seldom fails to clear away all pimples, black heads and skin eruptions and that makes the skin soft, clear and healthy. Any druggist can supply you with zemo, which generally overcomes all skin diseases. Acne, eczema, itch, pimples, rashes, black heads in most cases give way to zemo. Frequently, minor blemishes disappear overnight. Itching usually stops instantly. Zemo is safe, clean, easy to use and dependable. It costs only 25c an extra large bottle, $1.00. It will not stain, is not greasy or sticky and is positively safe for tender, sensitive skins. Zemo, Cleveland.

Greater Ohio Film Is Offered To City

The Ohio State Board of Commerce, through its secretary, O. K. Shimans, has offered the local Board of Trade its illustrated lecture, "Greater Ohio," free of any cost, any time the Board wishes to have it. The lecture is accompanied by moving pictures of some of the largest industries in the state. Included in the film are pictures of the Solby Shoe Company plant in operation.

While no reply has been made to the letter, there is a strong probability that an effort will be made to have the lecture delivered at the annual meeting of the Board of Trade early in December.

Death And Fire Sequel Of Wet-Dry Fight

WOMAN DIES AS BARN BURNS

Fire, believed to be of an incendiary origin, Friday morning, at 2:30 o'clock, completely destroyed the barn, a big frame structure, two-hundred feet long, situated on the farm of Robert Mustard, prominent farmer, who lives on the Wamsleyville road two miles south of Otway. The barn, owned by Mrs. Cora Wallace Mustard, wife of the owner of the barn. When

Mrs. Mustard saw the flames, which almost leaped over her home, she developed an attack of heart trouble and a short time later passed away without regaining consciousness. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wallace, parents of the unfortunate woman, who reside in this city, arrived at the stricken home a few minutes before Mrs. Mustard passed away. As a precautionary step, Mrs. Mustard was removed from her home, when it seemed inevitable that the flames would reach it, and as she was on the way to the home of her brother-in-law, Preston Mustard, she lapsed into a state of unconsciousness and remained that way until her death ensued. Mrs. Mustard, however, passed away in her own home, to which she was speedily returned when she became unconscious. Officials in the state fire marshal's office at Columbus were notified of the fire, which has caused a big sensation in Otway. A thorough investigation is to be made of the affair, which is tinged with one of the most regrettable tragedies that has taken place in Otway in recent years. In addition to the barn being reduced to smoldering ruins, Mr. Mustard lost one horse valued at $225, 100 bushels of corn, 4 bushels of wheat, farm implements, and one horse was burned so badly that it is thought that it will have to be killed.

Suggestion To Women

Who Are "Just Ready to Drop"

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired out next morning as when you went to bed, you need help. You can get it just as Mrs. Maxwell did. She says:

"I keep house for my little family of three, and became completely run-down. I was weak, nervous and could not sleep, finally I was unable to do my housework. A friend asked me to try Vinol. I did so and improved rapidly. It toned up my system, I regained my strength, and no longer nervous, sleep well, and do all my housework." Mrs. J. C. Maxwell, Montgomery, Ala.

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success to the medicinal extractives of fresh cod livers, tonic iron and beef peptone, the oldest and most famous body-building and strength-creating tonics.

So many letters like the above are continually coming to our attention, that we freely offer to return the money paid for Vinol in every case where it fails to give satisfaction. For sale at the Frank Amann Pharmacy.

Residents of Otway, along with Mr. Mustard, are of the opinion that the disastrous fire is a sequel to an incident that took place in this village last Saturday night, when unknown parties broke into the Otway school house and wrote all kinds of obscene words and sentences on a huge blackboard. A dry meeting was to have been held in the school house last Saturday, and when these signs were discovered, the work of vandals, who forced an entrance to the building, the meeting had to be abandoned. Bloodhounds were procured and they went to the homes of two young men in the village, but no arrests were made.

Mr. Mustard, it is claimed, was one of the men in that vicinity who insisted that this matter be thoroughly investigated, and it is thought that his activity in having the guilty parties brought to trial resulted in his barn being fired and destroyed with all its contents. Two young men suspected of the deed suddenly left the vicinity of Otway today, it was stated at that village Friday. Mr. Mustard is held in the highest esteem in Otway, and the news of his double misfortune resulted in the officials sending word to the state fire marshal's office to have the affair thoroughly investigated.

Mrs. Mustard was about 35 years old and besides her husband leaves two children, Russell and Mary. She also leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wallace, three brothers, Orville, Sumner and Milton, and two sisters, Mrs. Nellie Salisbury and Mrs. Mary Murphy.

Mrs. Mustard had been in poor health and shock superinduced by the fire caused her to collapse. Despite the fact that the home was only 60 feet from the barn, it was not seriously damaged by the flames.

wholly of that, for there are others of your own members who can speak of the club with a knowledge and an intelligence which no one can have who has not been intimately associated with it. Men band themselves together for the sake of association, no doubt, but also, for something greater and deeper than that—because they are conscious of common interests, lying outside their business occupations because they are members of the same community and in frequent intercourse find mutual stimulation and a real exaltation of vitality and power.

A year and a half ago our thought would have been almost altogether of great domestic questions. They are many and of vital consequence. We must and shall address ourselves to their solution with diligence, firmness and self-possession, notwithstanding we find ourselves in the midst of a world disturbed by disaster and ablaze with terrible war; but our thought is now inevitably of new things about which formerly we gave ourselves little concern. We are thinking now chiefly of our relations with the rest of the world—not our commercial relations—about those we have thought and planned always—but about our political relations, our duties as an individual and independent force in the world to ourselves, our neighbors and the world itself.

Principles Established
 "Our principles are well known. It is not necessary to avow them again. We believe in political liberty and founded our great government to obtain it, the liberty of men and peoples—of men to choose their own lives and of peoples to choose their own allegiance.

Peace Predominates
 "In no man's mind, I am sure, is there even raised the question of the wilful use of force on our part against any nation or people. No matter what military or naval force the United States might develop, statesmen throughout the whole world might rest assured that we were gathering that force not for attack in any quarter, not for aggression of any kind, not for the satisfaction of any political ambition, but for the maintenance of peace."

cal or international ambition, but merely to make sure of our own security. We have it in mind to be prepared, but not for war, but only for defense; and with the thought constantly in our minds that the principles we hold most dear can be achieved by the slow process of history only in the kind and wholesome atmosphere of peace, and not by the use of hostile force. The mission of America in the world is essentially a mission of peace and good will among men.

"She has become the home and asylum of men of all creeds and races. Within her hospitable borders they have found homes and congenial associations and freedom and a wide and cordial welcome, and they have become part and bone and sinew and spirit of America itself. America has been made up out of the nations of the world and is the friends of the nations of the world."

"But we feel justified in preparing ourselves to vindicate our right to independent and unimpaired action by making the force that is in us ready for assertion."

Must Train
 "And we know that we must do this in a way that will be itself an illustration of the American spirit. In accordance with our American traditions we want and shall work for only an army adequate to the constant and legitimate uses of times of international peace. But we do want to feel that there is a great body of citizens who have received at least the most rudimentary and necessary forms of military training; that they will be ready to form themselves into a fighting force at the call of a nation; and that the nation has the munitions and supplies with which to equip them without delay should it be necessary to call them into action. We wish to supply them with the training they need, and we think we can do without calling them from their civilian pursuits."

Militia Not Slighted
 "And none of this would be done in such a way as to in the slightest degree supersede or subordinate our present serviceable and efficient National Guard. On the contrary, the National Guard, itself would be used as part of the instrumentality by which training would be given the citizens who enlisted under the new conditions, and I should hope and expect that the legislation by which all this would be accomplished would put the National Guard upon a better and more permanent footing than it has ever been before, giving it not only the recognition which it deserves, but a more definite support from the national government and a more definite connection with the military organization of the nation."

"What we all wish to accomplish is that the forces of the nation should indeed be part of the nation and not a separate professional force, and the chief end of the system would not be in the enlistment or the training of the men, but in the providing of ample equipment in case it should be necessary to call forces into the field."

Country's Support
 "In the fulfillment of the program I propose I shall ask for the hearty support of the country, of the rank and file of America, of men of all shades of political opinion. For my position in this important matter is different from that of the private individual who is free to speak his own thoughts and to risk his own opinions in this matter. We are here dealing with the things that are vital to the life of America itself. In doing this I have tried to purge my heart of all personal and selfish motives."

"The only thing within our own borders that has given us grave concern in recent months has been that voices have been raised in America professing to be the voices of Americans who are not in deed and in truth American but which spoke alien sympathies which come from men who loved other countries better than they loved America, men who are partisans of other causes than that of America and had forgotten that their chief and only allegiance was to the great government under which they live. These voices have not been many, but they have been very loud and clamorous. They have proceeded from a few who were bitter and who were grievously misled. America has not opened its doors in vain to men and women of other nations."

Aliens Must Answer
 "The vast majority of those who have come to take advantage of her hospitality have united their spirits with hers, as well as their fortunes. These men who speak alien sympathies are not their spokesmen, but are the spokesmen of a small group whom it is high time that the nation should call to a reckoning. The chief thing necessary in America in order that she should let all the world know that she is prepared to maintain her own position is that the real voice of the nation should sound forth unmistakably and in majestic volume, in the deep union of common, unhesitating national feeling. I do not doubt that upon the first occasion upon the first opportunity, upon the first definite challenge, that voice will speak forth in tones which no man can doubt and with commands which no man dare gainsay or resist."

"May I not say, while I am speaking of this that there is another danger that we should guard against. We should rebuke not only manifestations of racial feeling here in America where there should be none, but also every manifestation of religious and sectarian antagonism. It does not become America that within her borders, where every man is free to follow the dictates of his conscience and worship God as he pleases, men should raise the cry of church against church. To do that is to strike at the very spirit and heart of America. We agree to differ about methods of worship, but we are united in believing in Divine Providence and in worshipping the God of Nations. We are the champions of religious right here and everywhere that it may be our privilege to give in our countenance and support."

The government is conscious of the obligation and the nation is conscious of the obligation. Let no men create divisions where there are none."

Let Us Preserve America
 "Here is the nation God has builded by our hands. What shall we do with it? Who is there who does not stand ready at all times to act in her behalf in a spirit of devoted and disinterested patriotism? We are yet only in the youth and first consciousness of our power. The day of our country's life is still but in its fresh morning. Let us lift our eyes to the great truths of life yet to be conquered in the interests of righteous peace. Come, let us receive our allegiance to America, conserve our strength in its purity; make her chief among those who serve mankind, self-renewed, self-commanded, mistress of all forces of quietness and strong above all others in good-will and the might of invincible justice and right."

Here Are Six Beautiful New Models In "PRINTZESS" SUITS

For Discriminating Women

$25.00 $28.50 $30 $35 $37.50

The Printzess name in your garment is an assurance that it is correct in every detail. Every Printzess suit or coat has more style, better quality, better fit and finer workmanship than many garments being sold in other stores. For double the price we ask for the Printzess. You expect to buy a new suit or coat this fall, so why delay—come tomorrow and make your selection from our vast assortment. You are welcome to try on any of our garments at any time, without being compelled to buy, also we want you to examine them carefully and note the excellent quality of the materials, the clever styles, the perfect fit, the high grade linings and the superior workmanship. Below we give you full descriptions of the six beautiful suits illustrated above. You will surely want one of these, so come tomorrow.

Model No. 798

(as illustrated above)—is a handsome field mouse broadcloth suit, with choker collar of Martin fur finished with animal head. The coat fastens with a row of buttons down the front, finished at waist with belt of self material, button fastened and trimmed. Lined with a good quality satin. The skirt has three plaits at sides. This is a beautiful suit and worth much more than the price we ask.

Model No. 799

(as illustrated above)—a navy blue of Gabardine, with chin collar of skunk opussum fur, closing over a row of jet buttons down the front, cuffs and edge of coat trimmed with black silk braid, the fullness at waist is gathered by belt of self material fastening with jet buttons, giving the Russian blouse effect and also giving the full ripple effect to skirt of coat. The coat is lined with navy satin and the skirt is very plain, in the flare effect, specially priced

Model No. 804

(as illustrated above)—is a beautiful green velvet suit, having high collar trimmed with beaver fur, the coat is gathered at waist with wide velvet girdle and the skirt has three plaits at sides and back, handsomely lined with white satin lining. The skirt is plain, gathered at back with belt of self material button trimmed. Available in green, navy and black

Model No. 803

(as illustrated above)—a suit of black cheviot with skunk opussum fur collar fastening under chin, also fur around edge of sleeves, the box coat has belt of self material and the edge of coat is finished with wide band of black silk braid and lined with good quality black satin, full flare skirt, plain tailored. A very smart looking suit

Model No. 802

(as illustrated above)—a Russian suit of green gabardine with convertible collar of green velvet, plaited, has green velvet cuffs trimmed with buttons, and the velvet girdle around waist makes this a very handsome suit. The coat is lined to the waist with green satin lining and interlined with soft cotton flannel, thus assuring you of warmth and comfort as well as style. Circular skirt with belt of self material and two pockets adds the finishing touch to this splendid suit

Model No. 801

(as illustrated above) is another Russian suit in navy blue broadcloth, so popular this season, has convertible collar and is finished at waist with black velvet girdle, the coat is lined with navy blue satin. The full flare skirt has a panel back with short belt of self material trimmed with buttons. When you consider the quality and style of this suit the price asked seems very low

The Place To Save On Footwear

Does it not stand to reason that we are able to sell for less? Why, you ask? Simply because our expenses for conducting our business is less than those stores who operate in the high rent district. We know we are as close as the next one, for no one has a patent on the buying of goods. We also know that our lines cannot be matched for excellence of style and superiority of quality—in the city. We like to sell new customers, for that means we will retain their friendship and business. We give quality, style, fit and comfort to all. Try our store for the next pair of shoes and see if we do not make good our boast—i. e., save you money on your footwear.

TERMINALS

A meeting of Seoto Division assistant yardmasters will be held tonight (Friday) in N. & W. general Yardmaster E. C. Tucker's office at 7:30 o'clock. A system for handling and the making up of trains in the new east-bound yard will be arranged. The new yard contains four tracks and will be used for the making up of east-bound time freights. The old east-bound yard will be used for handling all empty cars. Carl Vinson, 21, N. & W. brakeman of 2127 Eleventh street, was on extra freight 1077-1026 when injured at Trace, W. Va., Thursday. Vinson was sitting on a bunk in the caboose eating lunch when a pipe blew out of the main reservoir of engine 1077 causing the train to come to a sudden stop. Vinson was thrown against the front end of the caboose, a gash being cut in his forehead where it came in contact with an iron support of the bunk. He continued with his work until the train reached Williamson.

Spanish War Vets Nominate Officers; Alter Meeting Date

Resolutions changing the meeting night from the first Thursday of each month to the first Friday of the month, changing the name of the camp, and reducing the monthly dues of the members, were read for the second time at the monthly meeting of General Jacob H. Smith Camp, No. 79 United Spanish War Veterans Thursday evening.

The candidates were nominated for each office to be voted upon at the next meeting, as follows: Commander, Frank B. Pratt; George Lauder, senior vice commander; Ralph Calvert, George Carroll; junior vice commander, V. E. Martin, James Hicks; trustees, Louis E. Distel, Adolph Reinhard. The other officers are appointive.

After the nomination of officers, the members adjourned to the banquet room, where Comrade V. E. Martin had prepared a buffet lunch for the 35 members present, the lunch consisting of sauerkraut, weiners, sliced onions, sliced tomatoes, pickles, wheat and rye bread, coffee. The coffee, sugar and cream were donated by Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hamilton, of the Inter-City Tea Company. The boys of the Camp wish to return their sincere thanks for the donation.

After an hour or so of a love-feast, in which speaking and story telling predominated, the meeting adjourned, all feeling better for having been present. The next lunch will be served by Comrade Frank B. Pratt and it will be a bean bake.

During the meeting, the camp adopted the resolution originally adopted by Eli Champitt Camp, No. 49, of Lebanon, Ind., and which was printed in a recent issue of the American Standard, the official paper of the order. At the request of the local Camp, The Times publishes it in full below:

Hats Off! The Flag!

Patriotic action recently taken by the comrades of Eli Champitt Camp, No. 49, United Spanish War Veterans, of Lebanon, Ind., should be followed by every organization of former and present American soldiers, sailors and marines. This splendid Camp, according to a communication received by The American Standard and from Senior Vice-Commander Clayton W. Rosencrance, passed a resolution in the form of a petition, asking the local band leader, either to add the resolution to his program, or mention it just before the National Hymn is played.

SOCIETY

The Misses Augusta and Helen Haldeman have gone to Huntington to spend the week end with Mrs. Samuel Nye. They will attend a dance Saturday evening given by Miss Lina Hewitt for her brother and fiancée, Miss Campbell.

Mrs. Levi D. York will entertain the Second Street Wrist Club next Tuesday afternoon at her home on Rose Ridge.

Miss Dorothy Haag, of Washington street, was hostess at Wednesday evening's meeting of the S. M. S. Club. Fancy work and music by several of the members were the diversions of the evening, after which Miss Haag served dainty refreshments to the following members: Misses Charlotte Scheffler, Rose Kearns, Gertrude Billian, and Mary Blair. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Gertrude Billian, on Eighth street.

Mrs. Charles Taggart entertained the Young Ladies' Sewing Club this afternoon at her home on New Sixth street, where most of the members were present. Art needlework preceded dainty refreshments.

The M. C. J. Club held the first meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph Billian, on Eighth street. The evening was enjoyably spent in crochet work, after which a dainty supper was served. Mrs. Louis Lauter was the only guest. Those present were Mesdames Charles Billian, Mary Seitz, James Starlin, Frank Kengham, William Debo and Joseph Billian.

It Again Opens at Six-Thirty and Lasts
Until Nine-Thirty O'clock

REMEMBER!

2 Until 5--6:30 Until 9:30

PRICES quoted on this sale will prevail during these hours only.

Every article will be plainly marked. Each one will be tagged with a GREEN TICKET with THE PRICE IN BOLD FIGURES.

You are invited to come into the store, take all the time you want to inspect the stock and examine the articles offered. It will be our pleasure to have you call. If, after inspecting the stock you find something that you want you can notify one of the clerks and he will arrange for its delivery. Any explanations about any piece of furniture, range or rug will be gladly given.

It is customary with nearly every store in the city to select some little article and make a special low price with a view to getting the people into the store and sell them something else, whereby the dealer will be able to get a large margin of profit. This sale is entirely DIFFERENT. This sale is put with the view to getting acquainted with the customers and prospective buyers who want good goods at a low price for cash. It is not one certain article that is being offered at a special inducement but every piece on our two floors has a special GREEN ticket marked at a SPECIAL PRICE for this sale only.

We defy any one to prove to us whether better values have ever been offered in house furnishings. Don't complain if you fail to take advantage of this great opportunity.

We are only quoting a few of the many special values that can be found in our store today (Saturday) during the GREEN TICKET SALE.

CINCINNATI MEN WILL SPEAK AT BANQUET

Highways And Efficiency Will Be The Subjects

Speakers at the annual banquet of the Business Men's Association to be held at "The Club" on Thursday evening, November 11th, will be Harry L. Gordon, of Cincinnati, ex-Lieutenant-Governor of Ohio, and James P. Orr, prominent business man of Cincinnati, and M. A. Coe, the secretary of the association, according to the announcement Friday of the banquet committee.

Harry L. Gordon telegraphed from New York City Friday morning that he would be pleased to accept the invitation of the committee to address the members of the Association. His subject will be "Public Highways," one in which he is well authorized to speak. As one of the members from Ohio on the Dixie Highway Improvement Association, he rendered invaluable service, and his words will carry the weight of knowledge and experience. He is one of the most prominent attorneys in the city of Cincinnati, served as Lieutenant-Governor of the state, and vice-mayor of Cincinnati.

James P. Orr, the other speaker, is president of the Potter Shoe Company and one of the most prominent business men in the Queen City. His subject will be "Business

Efficiency.

Secretary M. A. Coe's subject will be "Credit Rating and the Kernal." In his official capacity, Mr. Coe has come into intimate touch with the details of the organization, and his remarks should interest each member keenly. Several members of the Association will be called upon for impromptu speeches.

Karl Zoellner will officiate as toast-master, a task that he can be expected to acquit creditably. Music will be furnished by the Aeolian Quartette, composed of W. D. Gilliland, Watson Goldard, Fred Leroy and Adam Barkel. The banquet will be served by the ladies of All Saints Episcopal church, who handled the banquet last year so satisfactorily.

with them—how otherwise can he know whether he represents or misrepresents their views.

Has Announced New Policy

"He has announced a policy which has never before been adopted in this country, and never endorsed by any party in the country, and he has no way of knowing, until he hears from the people, whether he has correctly interpreted the will of the public. His appeal is not to any party, but, as he says, to men of 'all shades of opinion.' He asks for the hearty support of the country, meaning, of course, that he wants the support, provided the people favor the policy which he has outlined. He could not, of course, ask them to support a policy which they did not endorse, especially if they considered the policy dangerous to the country. Reversal Of National Policy

"From my view of the subject, the plan which he proposes is not only a departure from our traditions, but a reversal of our national policy. It is not only a menace to our peace and safety, but a challenge to the spirit of Christianity, which teaches to influence others by example rather than by exciting fear. The president says that we should be prepared, 'not for aggression but for defense.' That is the ground upon which all the preparation for war is made. What nation has ever prepared for war on the theory that it was preparing for aggression. It is only fair to assume that the European rulers who are involved in the present war thought that they were looking toward the maintenance of peace when they were making elaborate preparations for defense. It is a false philosophy, and being false, inevitably leads into difficulties. The sport that makes the individual carry a revolver—and who ever carries a revolver except for defense?—leads him not only to use it on slight provocation but to use language which provokes trouble. 'Speak softly but carry a big stick' is one of the delusive maxims employed by those who put their faith in force.

There are two answers to it. First—The man who speaks softly has not the disposition to carry a club, and if a man with a soft voice is persuaded to carry a club his voice changes as soon as he begins to rely upon the club.

"If there is any truth in our religion a nation must win as an individual does, not by carrying arms but by an upright, honorable course that invites confidence and insures good will. This nation has won its position in the world without resorting to the habit of totting a pistol or carrying a club. Why reverse our policy at this time? The president himself admits that there is no reason for a change. He says:

"The country is not threatened from any quarter. She stands in friendly relations with all the world. Her resources and her self respect and capacity to care for her own citizens and rights are well known, and to make the statement more emphatic, he adds: 'There is no fear among us.'"

"If we're not threatened by any nation, if our relations with all nations are friendly, if everybody knows that we're able to defend ourselves if necessary and if there is no fear among us why is this time chosen to revolutionize our national theories and to exchange our policy for the policy of Europe? Why abandon the hope that we have so long entertained of setting an example to Europe? Why encourage the nations of Europe in their fatal following by imitating them? Why impose upon the western hemisphere a policy so disastrous? May we not expect all Latin-American to be stimulated to preparation if we enter upon a new era of preparation? and will not such a policy make conflicts between these republics more probable?

Harm To All Says Bryan

"We shall do infinite harm to the neighboring nations as well as to ourselves if we are drawn into this policy which provokes war by a preparation which is impossible without a large increase in taxation and the arousing of a military system which sets up false standards of honor. We are now spending more than $250,000,000 a year on preparedness—ten times as much as we are spending on agriculture—and I feel sure that the tax payers are not in favor of increasing this sum at this time when a change is not only unnecessary but a menace to our national ideals.

"There has not been a time in fifty years when there was less reason to add to the expenses of the army and navy for we are not only without an enemy, but our preparedness increasing relatively as other nations exhaust themselves. And there never was a time, and there never has been a time in our whole history when our duty to the world more imperatively demanded self restraint and the counsels of peace. "I hope the president will not be deceived by the atmosphere of the Manhattan Club. That is the one place in the United States where the Mammon-Worshipping portion of the Democratic party meets to exchange compliments—there is no group farther removed from the sentiment of the masses, where you measure that sentiment by economical, social or religious standards."

Woman Talks About Found In A Heap Her Husband Minus His "Roll"

Some people contend that even true love grows cold, and that the honeymoon does not last forever.

We beg to dissent from this opinion, and to offer in rebuttal, the following evidence:

"To say that I am grateful, could never convey my true feeling towards Tanlac. I am perfectly happy, because it has been the means of restoring health to my husband." So states Mrs. N. B. Dodridge, of Fullerton, Ky. "For years my husband has suffered from catarrh of the throat and stomach. Nothing gave him relief, until he began the Tanlac treatment, which has worked wonders for him."

Mr. N. B. Dodridge is a respected citizen of Portsmouth's neighboring town across the river.

Hundreds of people from both the neighboring towns, on the Kentucky side, and on the north side of the river, are coming in to Portsmouth daily, to secure this wonderful medicine, and are reporting most remarkable results from its use.

Catarrh of the head, throat and stomach, is the most prevalent malady in this section of the country today.

Dull headache, a stopped up condition of the head, continual clearing of the throat, and a tendency to easily contract colds and sore throat, are symptoms of an existence of catarrh. Catarrh of the head and throat most invariably extend to the stomach, causing chronic dyspepsia, and eventually such a rundown condition of the system, with the attendant emaciated state and salivary complexion, that many are led to believe that they are victims of tuberculosis, and give up hope.

Tanlac is a product of herbs, roots and flowers gathered from the remote parts of the earth.

Tanlac proves most effective in instances of stomach, liver, kidney and intestinal troubles, catarrh of the mucous membranes and rheumatism.

Tanlac is now on sale in Portsmouth at the Fisher & Streich Pharmacy, corner Sixth and Chillicothe Sts., where representatives are meeting large crowds daily and explaining Tanlac.

William R. Winton was the name given by a man, claiming to be employed on a steam shovel crew in a railroad camp near Sciotoville, who was robbed while staggering about in the West End Thursday afternoon.

Winton was found in a helpless heap against a bumper post in the B. & O. S. W. freight yards by Merchant Policeman John Kielman, who notified police headquarters. He had but 60 cents in his pockets. Winton, after he had sobered up somewhat, declared that he had $23 when he came to the city and some fellow workman corroborated his statement.

in police court, Friday morning. One of these, a man giving the name of Richard Moore, who himself had been arrested for fighting only to secure his release later on bond, came to his rescue by paying his fine of $5.

Moore is said to have made some insulting remarks to some women as they passed the Biggs House corner and Fred "Cush" Taylor resented it by knocking him down. Sam Royse, who was with Taylor at the time, was also arrested. All three men were fined $5 each for disorderly conduct, the evidence showing they had been drinking.

To Hold Tourney

Directors of the Westmoreland Country Club and State Golf Association decided to hold the state golf tournament at White Sulphur Springs next July, instead of at the Westmoreland club. The decision was brought about by the fact that the local club consists of only nine holes, which would cause a serious congestion with a large number of contestants on the course, says the Huntington Herald Dispatch.

The state meet takes place on July 12, 13, 14 and 15. The White Sulphur course is of eighteen holes. Between twenty-five and one hundred golfers will be on the course during the tournament. Each entry is assessed a sufficient sum to pay for entertainment of the meeting.

GOLF MATCH PLAYED HERE

Jas. Brophy went to Portsmouth yesterday and played a match game of golf with Lester Howard, a professional golfer. Brophy made 23 in the morning and the same in the afternoon, falling only two short of bogey each time. Howard made 43 in the morning and 45 in the afternoon. —Ashland Independent.

Building Addition

Albert Reitz is having an addition made to his home on Sixth street. The work is being done by Contractor W. F. Carson.

Greenup Vote

The complete returns from Greenup county shows that Morrow received 1616 votes and Stanley 1274; Halbert 1537 and Wilson 1264. Cochran, Republican candidate for county clerk, received 1443 votes and Prichard, Democrat, 1420. Cooper, Republican candidate for the legislature, received 1485 votes and Oakes 1308; Bennett, Republican for circuit clerk, was elected over Skaggs by a vote of 1587 and 1220. The constitutional amendments carried.

President Spends Day With His Fiancee

New York, Nov. 5.—President Wilson planned to spend the better part of today with Mrs. Norman Galt, his fiancee, and relatives who are now in New York. Despite the late hour at which the president left the Manhattan club banquet last night he arose early today at the home of Colonel E. M. House, where he spent the night, and called upon Mrs. Galt at her hotel about 9 o'clock. Later they attended a luncheon in their honor by Cleveland Lodge. President Wilson had planned to leave for Washington at 10 o'clock but deferred his departure until late afternoon in order to attend this luncheon. Among the guests were Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, the president's cousin, who accompanied Mrs. Galt on her shopping tour here, Miss Gertrude Gordon of Washington and Dr. Carey T. Grayson, the president's naval aide and physician. The president has taken advantage of his visit to New York to talk informally with various Democrats.

POLICE INVESTIGATING

The police are quietly investigating the finding of counterfeit ten dollar gold pieces in a sewer near Tenth and Lincoln streets by a city employee Thursday. They were exactly 42 such coins in the lot and they are of a spurious nature.

GOING ON THE CORN SPECIAL

Leo Halderman, of Stockdale, who is one of the delegates to the Boy Scout conference, which will open tonight, is going to be a member of the Corn Special that will go East shortly. Halderman is considered one of the best corn-growers for his age in the vicinity of Stockdale. He raised prize corn this year and his reward will be a delightful swing through the big Eastern cities.

SOCIETY

The forty-eighth annual meeting of the Portsmouth Magazine Club was held last evening at the home of Miss Margaret Firmstone, on Fourth street. The same list of magazines, with the addition of St. Nicholas, will be taken this year. Miss Firmstone was again elected secretary, having served five years, and previous to that Mrs. Mary S. Cotton was secretary since the organization, which took place at

Mrs. Cotton's house forty-eight years ago. The present members are Mesdames Mary Cotton, J. K. Ludwig, N. W. Evans, William Silcox, Lucien Doty, Mr. S. R. Rosa, Mr. Samuel Reed, Misses Margaret Firmstone, Emma Cramer, Margaret Becker and Emily Ball.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Bathed church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. C. Winters, on Buena Vista pike. Those present were Mesdames Charles Morris, Albert Beckman, Bert Dondut and daughter, Louella, Fred Barker, Howard Smith and daughter Mary, S. E. Miller, Fry, Rose Winter, Misses Helen Giles, Lennis Beckman of the members, and the guests were Bessie White, Hazel Younger and Mabel Beckman. The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Howard Smith.

The members of Judge Blair's class of Second Presbyterian Sunday school will hold a bazaar and supper Thursday evening, November 11th, afternoon and evening, in the church.

A jolly party of young people met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Marsh last evening, when Miss Norma Marsh entertained them with dancing, games, Victrola music and fortune-telling. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served to the following guests: Misses Hazel and Irene Finger, Lola Molster, Easter Nash, Sarah Tipton, Annette Thomas, Anna Dora Marsh, Messrs. Paul Gable, Leroy Thornton, William and James Sarver, Fred Agee, Cecil Beckman, Ralph Saver, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith.

The regular meeting of the Home League Club was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harman Pick, on Ninth street, where there was a good number present. The only changes in the program were Current Events given by Mrs. Nottingham, instead of Mrs. Bothwell, and Sunshine Corner by Mrs. Fred Baker instead of Mrs. Nottingham. Mrs. Earl Cooke gave her splendid report of the recent meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs held at Toledo. Miss Parks was the only guest. The hostess served refreshment after the program. Mr. F. W. Chase will be hostess at the next meeting.

A delightful meeting of the Priscillas was held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Dunham, where all members were present, with the exception of Mrs. S. D. Ruggles and Mrs. Maurice Coe. Needlework was followed by excellent refreshments, served by the hostess. Mrs. W. D. Gilliland will be hostess at the next meeting.

The Wild Cat Club will be entertained next Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Strague.

Mrs. R. D. York and pretty little daughter, Ruth, who have been ill, will leave tomorrow at noon for a visit at Old Point Comfort. They will be accompanied by Mrs. J. S. Pearce, who will visit her son George at Old Point Comfort College.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Ruggles are in Cincinnati for a few days' stay.

Class Number 7 of the Seabrook Christian church will hold a bake sale at the Taylor store, on Jackson street, Saturday afternoon, when they will have pies, cake and bread for sale.

Mrs. J. C. Smith, of Union street, has gone to Stockdale to see her father, Mr. Brown, who has been ill.

Miss Aveland Sherman, of Warr's Station, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. F. W. Chase, while here to attend the high school lecture this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Brown have returned from a visit at the farm.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church of Seabrook held an interesting meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. John McEvine, on Main street, who was assisted by her sister, Mrs. White. Plans were made for a turkey supper to be given the Tuesday before. Thanksgiving in Old Fellows' hall. Splendid refreshments were served by the hostess.

Last evening's meeting of the T. B. C. was postponed until Thursday of next week, when it will be held at the home of Mrs. Chester Spencer, on New Seventh street.

This evening at the new German Evangelical Sunday school auditorium, the wonderful pianist, Pasquale Tallarica, will present an artistic program under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical. Several high-class artists' recitals will be presented during this year. Mrs. J. S. Pearce, the president of the Ladies' Musical, is working hard to make this a banner year. Everybody ought to hear this fine pianist.

Mrs. Frank Adams was hostess at this afternoon's meeting of the Saturday Afternoon Whist Club at her home on Fifth street. The substitutes were Mesdames John Peebles, J. L. Watkins and G. D. Scudder. A dainty repast was served at the card tables.

The regular meeting of the Kaffee Klatch was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Straus, on Timmonds avenue. There were held at the home of Miss Emma enough members present for four Daehler.

tables of five hundred. Mrs. Dan Laboid won the highest score and was presented with a handsome pair of silk hose. A delicious lunch was served at the end of the game. Mrs. Samuel Schloss will be hostess at the next meeting in two weeks.

Yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Thursday Evening Kensington Club was postponed until next Thursday, when the meeting will be held at the home of Miss Emma enough members present for four Daehler.

The Arch Preserver Shoe For Women

The last word in women's footwear! The new shoes that not only make the feet right in shape but keep them right. This new patented shoe holds the arch where nature intended it to be. It gives you comfort and also style.

IT ISN'T NECESSARY TO WEAR SHOES WHICH MAKE YOUR FOOT LOOK DEFORMED IN ORDER TO HAVE YOUR ARCH PROPERLY TAKEN CARE OF AND YOUR FOOT PROPERLY AND COMFORTABLY FITTED

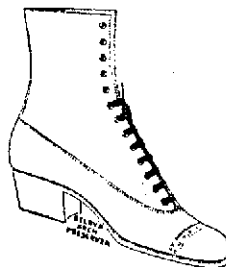

This shoe was invented by Dr. Brown, of Boston, who has made the foot his life study. He has been in Portsmouth the past six months working with The Selby Shoe Co. perfecting this shoe.

We now offer for sale the ARCH PRESERVER shoe, made in Portsmouth by The Selby Shoe Co., and were these shoes made elsewhere we would still be as enthusiastic about them, for we believe them to be the very best proposition yet offered to the foot-suffering people. This new ARCH PRESERVER shoe will ease many a foot that sorely knew comfort.

The ARCH PRESERVER shoe is made with a long steel shank of ideal design which gets under the load of the body. Not only is this shoe for women who have foot trouble but every woman, even with perfect feet, should wear the ARCH PRESERVER shoes.

If your arch is perfect, keep it perfect. If it is broken down or injured, make it perfect with this wonderful new shoe.

Stop in our shoe department and have the virtues of the ARCH PRESERVER shoe explained by our capable salespeople.

Thief Shows Disregard For Safety Of Trail Users, Steals Lanterns

Three out of five danger lanterns placed on the ditch for gas mains on Scioto Trail, north of Hempstead hospital, were stolen sometime Thursday night.

Superintendent John McMillan, of the Portsmouth Gas Company, said Friday that if the guilty persons are caught they will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. In taking the lights the vandals make the gas company liable for damage, as persons might drive into the open ditch.

Drivers of all vehicles would do well to remember that there is an open ditch on the west side of the road north of the hospital.

Rushed To Hospital

Mrs. R. J. Curtis, of South Webster, was brought to the city on a D. & O. S.-W. train Friday morning and rushed to Hempstead hospital in Lynn's ambulance to undergo a surgical operation. It was performed by Dr. Jos. Price, of Columbus, assisted by Dr. A. G. Stevens, of South Webster.

Cleanse The Blood Banish Rheumatism

Rheumatism Due to Bad Blood. S. S. S. Your Remedy

Thousands have been made well. People in the poorest health, suffering from Rheumatism, with whom pain was constant. Who believed that their vitality was sapped beyond repair. It was proven to them that the cause of their trouble was the blood; that Uric Acid, the most faithful ally of Rheumatism, had gripped them. The poison in the blood had sapped its strength. The weakened blood had allowed poisons and impurities to accumulate, and all energy was gone. They felt "poorly," were listless, pain was ever present, with poor digestion and dyspepsia. They tried S. S. S.,—nature's blood tonic. They gave up drugs. This compound of nature's remedies of roots and herbs did what drugs failed to do. It literally washed the blood free from poison, and with the flow of pure blood came back health, strength, vigor and happiness. Get S. S. S. from your druggist. Insist upon S. S. S. If yours is a long standing case, write for special advice to S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga., but begin taking S. S. S. at once.

Princeton To Play Harvard Saturday

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 5.—Expressing the opinion that his men are on edge for the big gridiron battle with Harvard tomorrow, and not caring to risk injury to any of them, Head Coach Rush planned only the lightest kind of practice for the Princeton team today.

Signal drills and instructions how to meet the attack of the crimson eleven was all the work Rush had mapped out for his players. The stars were to be lined against the scrub team for the purpose of opposing the plays Percy Haughton, the Harvard coach, is supposed to have taught his men, but there was to be no scrimmage, the Tigers merely walking through the plays.

COACH "SPEEDY" RUSH PUTS PRINCETON ON THE FOOTBALL MAP

At Princeton a new era in football has been ushered in by "Speedy" Rush, the former coach of the University School of Cleveland. Rush made a fine reputation as a prep school coach, and at Princeton has done as much as his best friends hoped for. One sensible move that Princeton is making this year is to keep Captain Glick at quarterback. Driggs is said to be punting better than ever, while Tibbot is one of the season's finds as a drop kicker. McLean, the star tackle, has been showing remarkable form. Princeton, on the whole, has a well balanced team, strong in every department and well versed in fundamental football. It looks now as if the football honors of the year would be divided between Princeton and Cornell.

May Start Later

The December meetings of the National and American leagues in New York will be fraught with many vital issues and the least of them is not the war with the Federal league. A survey of the reserve lists of the clubs show no less than 539 players are claimed for eligibility in 1916. The New York Highlanders top the list with 47 men and the St. Louis Browns lay claim to 41.

DO TELL, THEY DISCUSSED BASEBALL

Cincinnati, Nov. 5.—Charles Weegman, of the Chicago Federals, and Harry Sinclair, of the Newark Federals, after holding a conference with August Herrmann, chairman of the national baseball commission here Thursday, left for Chicago and New York, respectively, last night. None of the three would give an inkling as to the exact nature of the matter under discussion and contented themselves with the announcement that "we discussed baseball in general."

Lineup Of P. H. S.

Nutter, R. E.; Anderson, R. T.; Lewis, R. G.; Brandel, C.; Coleman, I. G.; Quinn, J. T.; Williams, I. E.; Morris, Q. B.; Breese, I. H. S. team on Beechwood gridiron, Ironton, Saturday afternoon. Coach Hart has had the team practicing with the above lineup and will give the Ironton warriors one of their best games of the season.

Captain Duvel and Fullback Wilson will be two of the players badly missed. Thomas at half back has been out of the game for two weeks and is not counted as being one of the regulars out on account of studies. Half-back Shoemaker, regular, and Grassman, of the substitute list, have been added to the list of ineligible players. Prof. Clark Fullerton, who has the work of making out the eligibility list, gives out the above list of five.

Quinn and Lewis, of the line, reported as being out on account of low studies, will be right in the heart of the game.

The regulars out are Captain Duvel, Wilson and Shoemaker. Added to the trio are Thomas and Grassman of the extra squad.

McGraw Is Busy

One of the busiest little men in the baseball world at present is John McGraw, manager of the Giants. Nettle by his once great team's lack of stamina and pepper during the season of 1915 the "Little Napoleon" is burning up the dust of the highways and byways in an effort to bolster up his team. Many trades and purchases are said to be in prospect.

Going South March 10th

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Clarence Rowland and his city champions, the White Sox, are in for a short training stint next spring. President Comiskey yesterday issued a second piece of news in connection with the tidings that Mineral Wells, Tex., had been chosen for the conditioning ground. The Old Roman announced that his troops would wait until March 10 before shipping to the Southwest.

Stock Is For Sale

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 5 Stock in the Kansas City American Association Baseball Club today was advertised by the sheriff for sale on the courthouse steps at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon to satisfy a $250 judgment obtained by a member of the local team.

BIG CROWD TO TURN OUT

The New Boston Tigers have been practicing hard every afternoon this week and they will be in splendid shape to meet the fast Ashland aggregation at Millbrook gridiron Sunday afternoon. A crowd of over 500 is looked for and over half this number will have to turn out to help the local lads make expenses. The Tigers' lineup will contain such stars as James Lynn, Bob Padan, Hubert Thurman, James Culver, Bob Matthews and John Emmert.

BUCKEYE CORN SPECIAL

The Buckeye Corn Special Tour is promoted in the interest of education and patriotism. It consists of a week of educational travel and patriotic environment. It includes Washington, our National Capital, Philadelphia, the cradle of American independence, and New York, the greatest city in the world.

A member of last year's party, who has since attended the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, says: "I enjoyed last year's Buckeye Corn Special Tour more than my trip to the Pacific, which cost five times as much."

T. P. Middle, of Lima, the director of the tour, makes this comment: "I thought we had reached the climax of sight-seeing and entertainment in last year's itinerary; but this year's beats it by a mile."

The Buckeye Corn Special Party travels De Luxe. Everything is first-class from start to finish. Special trains composed of Standard Steel Pullman Sleeping Cars, electric lighted, steam heated, safe, sanitary and comfortable. Each car will have its colored porter ready to respond at the press of the button. Meals can be served in dining cars. It will be traveling as comfortably as travel.

In going, the Buckeye Corn Specials pass through Pittsburgh by night. Pittsburgh is a night reminder of Dan's Inferno, those mighty towers of smoke and flame. On the homeward trip they also will see the great city of the West. One of the most beautiful pieces of mountain scenery east of the Rockies.

TO PUT KIBOSH ON TOURING PARTIES

Last night a special train left Chicago for San Francisco. It carried the minor league club owners to the coast city where the annual gathering of the minor folks will take place. One thing which the club owners in the lesser circuits propose to do is to put the kibosh on the post season touring parties which many regard as more of a menace than a benefit to the national game. Recently an aggregation of "All Stars" played a colored team in Indianapolis and the game broke up in a near riot.

At Philadelphia the sight-seeing will include John Wanamaker's big store; city hall, the largest municipal building in the world, Masonic Temple, Curtis Publishing Company Plant, the home of the Saturday Evening Post, the Country Gentleman and the Ladies Home Journal; Independence Hall; Benjamin Franklin's grave; the Betsy Ross house, the home of the American flag; and a boat trip to League Island, Uncle Sam's largest navy yard, where a special program has been arranged, consisting of a concert by the Marine Band, a drill by

Blue-jackets, an exhibition by flying boats by members of the Aero Club of Pennsylvania, and an hour aboard the Battleship Ohio. In the evening the Buckeye Corn Special Party will enjoy the theatrical sensation of the year, "The Birth of a Nation."

The day in New York will prove the climax. Breakfast will be taken at the famous Waldorf-Astoria. The sight-seeing will include St. Patrick's Cathedral, Grand Central Station, the Bronx Zoo, the Aquarium, a thirty mile boat trip around New York harbor and out on the ocean a mile. The noon meal will be eaten aboard boat. At 6 p. m. the Buckeye Corn Special Party will be seated in the Grand Ball Room of the Hotel Astor, New York's greatest hotel. A theatre party at the Hippodrome will follow. After the show the party will march down Broadway, "The Great White Way," to the Pennsylvania railroad station, where the Buckeye Corn Special will be boarded for the homeward trip.

DO YOU DREAD THE COLD?

Some people enjoy cold weather, but pleasure in winter sports and the keen air rills the pink to their cheeks and the red to their lips. Others shrink from cold and turn blue at the least exposure to frosty air.

The difference is in the blood. Rich, red blood warms the body. Every long walk of pure cold air increases the oxygen it carries to every part of the system. This blood is made to take up the life-sustaining oxygen. The body lacks nourishment and the sufferer is always cold, takes a chill easily and is miserable all winter.

Thin blood is largely the sufferer's own fault. It results from neglect, because he blood can be built up. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills supply the elements that the body needs to make it rich and red and enable it to carry more oxygen. Building up the red portion of the blood is made but because thin blood does not all attention to itself is often neglected. Have you seriously considered taking a course of treatment with these blood-making pills? If you are in doubt write for information.

CLAIM SUCCESS FOR SYSTEM OF VOTING

Ashtabula, O., Nov. 4.—Supporters of the Hare system of proportional representation in municipal government were claiming success today for the experiment in Ashtabula with this voting method in Tuesday's election, following the announcement of winners by the board of elections last night. Seven councilmen were chosen by the use of first, second, third and other choice votes, involving the transferring of surpluses and elimination of low candidates on successive counts. The system claims to give representation in the council to any faction which can muster one-seventh of the voting strength of the city.

The winners are divided politically into five Republicans, one Democrat and one Socialist; racially into one Italian, one Swede and five native-born; religiously into two Roman Catholics and five of Protestant persuasion. The council will choose a city manager.

Scout Commissioner, Whose Untiring Efforts Have Put the Boy
 Scout Movement On Such a High
 Plane in Portsmouth.

The Southern Ohio Boy Scout Conference opens this evening in this city at the First Presbyterian Bible School Auditorium at 7 o'clock. Delegates have been arriving since 8:30 this morning, the first to register being the delegation from Stockdale, consisting of Scouts Clifford White, Edmund Stir, Leo Holderman, Dewey Crabtree, Albert Feizer and Marvyn Lyons. These boys made the trip on the Beaver Auto-Bus. Also a good-sized delegation came from Ironton on the 3:30 N. & W. train. The majority of the visiting delegates will reach the city tonight and will be met by local scouts, in whose homes they will be entertained while attending the conference.

Tonight's session will be an extremely interesting one and will be open to the public. Parents and supporters of the local scout movement are especially urged to be present. The musical prelude of the evening will be rendered by the Boy Scout Instrumental Trio, consisting of William Hopkins, violinist; Howard Lowry, cornetist; and M. H. F. Kinsey, pianist. They will render three numbers, as follows: (1) Trio, "Boy Scouts On Parade March." (2) Solo, "Some-where a Voice is Calling," by Howard Lowry. (3) Solo, "The Dying Poet" (Gottschalk) by William Hopkins.

Invocation By Rev. Marting

The invocation will be by Rev. Albert Marting, pastor of the Fourth Street Methodist church. Mr. George D. Souder, president of the Local Boy Scout Council, and a great friend of Portsmouth Boy Scouts, will also extend words of greetings to the visitors. The Portsmouth Scouts will be represented by Scout Frank C. Davis, a patrol leader of Troop 8, who will give an address of welcome. The response to these expressions of welcome will be made by Mr. Cecil Tidd, of Stockdale. Then will follow a short concert by the Columbia Male Quartet, consisting of A. L. Marting, 1st tenor; J. L. Weaver, 2nd tenor; M. H. F. Kinsey, baritone, and George Metzger, bass.

The address of the evening will be made by Hobart Samson, president of the Southern Ohio Boy Scout Association, and one of the founders of the organization, whose subject will be "Leadership," which will be the general theme throughout the conference. Mr. Samson is one of the best orators of the city, and considered one of the best debaters as well. His address will be followed with two piano numbers, the first by Russell Williams, of Troop 2, and the second, "Evening Chimes" (descriptive) by Kenneth Swearingin of Troop 5.

"Romantic San Diego"
 The closing feature of the evening's program will be 5 reels of motion pictures, as follows: "Romantic San Diego"; "Boy Scouts of France"; "Pete the Pedal Pusher" (Comic); "Valley of the Chamoux"; "Aches of Dreams"; "Colonel Hector Liar Farmer" (Comic).
 Saturday's program:
 Saturday's sessions will be of a very interesting nature. The first is a convention session held at 9:00 a. m. The devotional exercises will be in charge of Rev. S. D. Conger, after which officers will be elected for the coming year, followed with reports which will be submitted by visiting delegates. A paper and two addresses will be the chief features of the morning session, as follows: "How to Enlist the Interest of Parents," by Richard Knost; "The Scout Movement in Rural Communities," by Cecil Tidd; "Scout Promotions and Privileges," by Corwin Knowles. Two spirited debates will also be pulled off at this session: "Resolved: That the Country Boy is Benefitted More by the Scout Movement Than the City Boy." Affirmative, John Stively, of Lucasville; negative, Charles Bagges, of Portsmouth. The second "Resolved: That Only Scouts of First and Second Class Rank Should Be Given Athletic Privileges." Affirmative, Merion Garrison; negative, Howard Graf.

Big Gymnasium Program

The afternoon of Saturday will be devoted to an athletic program, there being a big gym meet in the First Presbyterian Gymnasium. The chief feature of this program will be a basketball game between the Covenanters, pennant winners last season and the "All Stars," a picked team. There will also be a game between the Tigers and the East End.

Organization One Year Old

The Southern Ohio Boy Scout Association is just one year old, being formed under the direction of Scout Commissioner M. H. F. Kinsey, the originator of the Scout Movement in Portsmouth last November. The first session was held at Lucasville. This organization has been instrumental in setting the movement established in rural communities and some splendid results have been obtained. The conference closes Saturday afternoon.

SOCIETY

Under the auspices of the Portsmouth Federation of Women's Clubs, "Pollyanna" was presented last evening at Trinity Methodist church by Miss Dede Kennedy, of Bellefontaine, who is an attractive reader. Miss Ruth Crawford, one of Portsmouth's talented young musicians, played a beautiful organ selection, after which Miss Kennedy presented her reading with grace and ease. She was small and had a pleasing voice, which fitted perfectly in this popular selection, "Pollyanna," in which she held her audience every minute all through the rendition of the beautiful story written by Eleanor H. Porter. The audience was not as large as had been expected and the people of Portsmouth missed a treat in not hearing this talented reader, who produced her story so well that at one minute the audience would be in tears and the next minute in laughter. Those who attended the entertainment were more than pleased with the way Miss Kennedy presented this popular story. The ushers were Misses Violet Cunningham, Ethel Doerr, Salome Augustin, Madeline Augustin, Leonard Allard and Alice Blake. While in the city Miss Kennedy was entertained at the home of Mrs. W. S. Walker, vice-president of the Federation of Women's Clubs. She left this morning for Union City, Ind., where she will give an entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Bauer, of Seventh street, entertained at dinner last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Carlyle, of Cincinnati, who are on their way to the Western coast to attend the exposition.

Miss Merle Little will have a Hand-Painted China Sale at her home, 1012 Third street, Saturday, Nov. 6, at 2 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Duvendek, who were married about two weeks ago and are keeping house in the Hannah addition, Sciotoville, were given a generous surprise shower last evening, when about one hundred of their friends of the village assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brock and went to the Duvendek home in a body, greatly surprising the happy young couple. All of the guests took with them handsome and useful presents, including bedding, china, linens, cut-glass, silver, aluminum and other things too numerous to mention. The dining table was piled up with the gifts. The guests remained long enough for the bride and groom to open their gifts, which they very much appreciated. Fruit of all sorts was served, it also being taken along by the guests.

Mrs. E. A. Eyrum and baby daughter, Ruth, of No. 2215 Grant street, have just returned from a ten days' visit to her cousin, Mrs. James Hart, at Huntington, W. Va.

The regular monthly meeting of the German Evangelical Relief Fund Society was held yesterday afternoon in the new Sunday school room where there was a large attendance. Plans were made for the Thanksgiving sale to be held the Tuesday before Thanksgiving. All sorts of baked things will be on sale and a hot lunch will be served from 4 till 8 o'clock. All the meetings will be held in the new Sunday school room.

The Auction Bridge Club was entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joseph Salmon, on Waller street. Mrs. Wells A. Hutchins and Mrs. J. C. Miller played in the places of the absent ones. Delicious refreshments followed the game.

Mr. and Mrs. Eliza Parker, formerly of Gay street, this city, who afterwards moved to Ironton, are moving to Cincinnati, where Mr. Parker has accepted a splendid position at the C. & O. depot.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES ALL HER LIFE

But Miss Ayres Got a 'Beautiful Complexion' at a Cost of Only $2.00

Nov. 23, 1914: "All my life my face was covered completely with a mass of pimples, blackheads and blotches. I spent a lot of money on numerous remedies and treatments without success and no relief at all. I tried so many things that I was afraid my face could not be cured. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap seemed to do me good right from the first. I used two jars of Resinol Ointment and some Resinol Soap, and this completely cured my case. My skin is without a blemish and I am the possessor of a beautiful complexion." (Signed) Mabel Ayres, Stone Mountain, Va.

Every druggist sells Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment, and physicians have prescribed them for twenty years in the treatment of eczema and other tormenting skin troubles.

At last a pancake flour to which pure sweet milk has already been added

You know what a delicious, full flavor milk gives to your cooking—how much richer pancakes taste when you make them with milk.

You can get this added deliciousness in Aunt Jemima's Pancake Flour. This favorite pancake flour is prepared with the milk—pure, full flavored—already in it!

Ordinarily, women have to add the milk themselves, or not having milk at hand many use water, and water never gives the same full flavor.

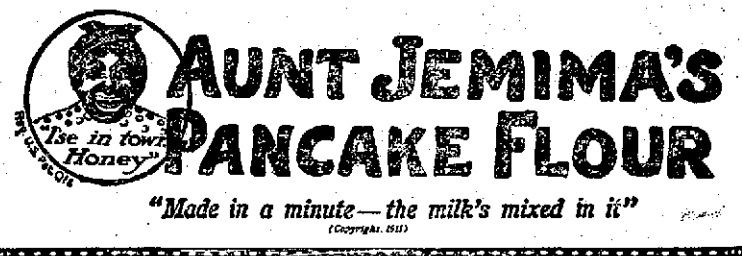

So that it will be easy for every woman who uses Aunt Jemima's to have the finest pancakes possible to make, pure, sweet milk is already added. In Aunt Jemima's you get the one perfect, complete, prepared pancake flour.

Already proved a success

Well-known cooking and food experts have tested Aunt Jemima's. They are enthusiastic over it. They appreciate what the addition of milk means in added convenience and in greater deliciousness.

Try Aunt Jemima's and you will have the same experience. See how much better your pancakes are when you use the flour that has the milk mixed in it. See why every one who tastes Aunt Jemima's pancakes is so enthusiastic about their wonderful flavor!

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 58.

I first saw a picture show. Do you need lots of fine clothes, and about how much money would one need to start with. Now Dolly please answer these questions the best you can as I am very anxious to know all of them.

LITTLE TWEEDEE.

It requires a pretty general education to be a movie star and you cannot become a star immediately. You begin by playing very minor parts and then if you show talent you may secure some better parts and if you don't you are let out. For the names of film companies look in a motion picture magazine. Any number of them can be purchased at the local news stands, and also at the box office of the picture houses. You have to have clothes to suit the parts you play and of course you may need a great many different ones. You will need enough money to carry you along for several months in case you do not get a place, or work was not frequent enough to keep you in food, clothes and pin money.

Dear Miss Dolly.—In what person or how are wedding gifts acknowledged? I refer to those received from friends of the groom whom I do not know. How should announcements be addressed when mailed to men friends of the groom, neither of us having met their wives?

IGNORANT.
The first person is used. The note may be informal and brief, but full of sincere thanks for the gift and a desire to meet your husband's friends. The outer envelope should be addressed to the wife in every instance. The inner envelope is addressed to husband and wife.

Miss Wise.—Will you please tell me how to remove mildew from a white linen table cover?

A TIMES READER.
Soak it in a weak solution of chloride of lime.

Dear Dolly.—Is there any harm in playing cards for fun and just to pass the time away?

SADIE.
While there are more profitable ways of "passing the time away" still there is no harm in occasional games of cards so long as no harm is made of them.

Dear Dolly.—We are girls of 16 and are coming to you for advice, we are acquainted with two young fellows, but are not allowed to go with them. If our parents should allow us to go with fellows how should we introduce them? Now Dolly, one of us has black curly hair, dark complexion, blue eyes, and the other has blonde hair, brown eyes, fair complexion. Do you think we are pretty? What are some nice Christmas presents for us to give boys and not expensive, and what would be nice presents for them to get us? Now tell us Dolly and no joking, as we want to know real bad.

NEW BOSTON CHUMS.
You are too young to go with the boys. It is not considered proper for girls your age to give presents to boys, neither is it proper to accept anything from boy friends other than candy, flowers, books or some other inexpensive article. If you are still friends when Christmas rolls around you might send them a pretty Xmas card.

Dear Miss Wise.—Will you kindly tell me if a doctor may use the same card for visiting as for his profession?

DOC.
For social purposes a doctor should have only his house address in the lower right-hand corner and the title Dr. before his name or the letters M. D. after it. On his professional card he should have the title Dr. before his name, his house address in the lower right-hand corner, and his office number and office hours in the lower left-hand corner.

Dear Miss Wise.—At what length should a girl of thirteen wear her dresses and weigh one hundred pounds, and five feet two inches tall? How should she fix her hair. It is straight, but not stubborn.

A KID.
Ask your mother about these things. They usually know how to dress their little daughters.

Dear Miss Wise.—When stopping at a hotel does one carry the key to their room with them or

TIMES SERVICE PATTERN 1457

1457. A popular practical style. Girls' dress with sleeve in either of two lengths.

As here shown checked gingham was used, with white lining for trimming. This design will develop nicely in serge, naid suit or wool mixtures. It is also nice for linen, pique, flanne, velvet, corduroy or poplin. The fronts are finished with slot tucks underneath which the closing may be affected. The skirt is a four gore model with a charming "grown up" flare. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. It requires 3 yards of 48-inch material for a 4 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Orders for patterns are forwarded to New York to be filled, hence it requires several days for this pattern to reach the purchaser. Patterns can not be ordered by telephone. Do not use postage stamps for larger denomination than two cents.

CAUTION—Order adult patterns by number of pattern, giving bust measure for waist patterns, and waist measure for skirt patterns. For Misses and Children give number of pattern and age only.

A Mistaken Idea

Many men are under the impression in purchasing a suit of clothes that they are getting a custom tailored suit on account of being measured and having a few little extras put in the suit that are not usually found. They are actually getting a special made suit, it is tailored in a factory that makes only ready-made clothes. Now if you want a custom-tailored suit—HALL BROS. in the Masonic Temple will supply you—this firm has in their employ a designer and cutter also tailors who work on nothing but the best of custom tailored garments—each suit pattern shown is of individual weave and color—no two alike, the prices are reasonable consistent with good qualities and workmanship.

FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN

As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Dispelled Backache, Headaches and Dizziness.

Piquet, Ohio.—"I would be very ungrateful if I failed to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the praise it deserves, for I have taken it at different times and it always relieved me when other medicines failed, and when I hear a woman complain I always recommend it. Last winter I was attacked with a severe case of organic weakness. I had backache, pains in my hips and over my kidneys, headache, dizziness, lassitude, had no energy, limbs ached and I was always tired. I was hardly able to do my housework. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on one other occasion, and it had helped me so I took it again and it has built me up, until now I feel like a new woman. You have my hearty consent to use my name and testimonial in any way and I hope it will benefit suffering women."—Mrs. ORPHEA TURNER, 421 S. Wayne St., Piquet, Ohio.

Women who are suffering from these distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

WILL OPEN BIDS

Bids will be opened at the city building Saturday noon for the contracts of paving Linden avenue 650 ft. north from Gallia street and Armstrong Place 600 ft. north from Gallia.

It is not likely that more than the sewer-work will be done on these two improvements this year. They are the last two streets to be let, the Kendall avenue paving ordinance having been held up by city council.

Work was started Friday morning laying brick on Gay street, between Eleventh and Thirteenth streets. Park avenue is completed and work is progressing on Garfield street, where the street railway company has its track lined up again. The foundation has been started on Market Road and some of the curb and gutter have been put in. Norfolk and Walnut streets are both finished and the barricades at the upper end of the latter will be removed Saturday and the street opened clear through.

Printer Is Missing; May Be In This City

The local authorities have received an urgent request from Police Chief W. S. Rowe, of Cleveland, asking them to assist in the search for one H. C. Williams, aged 45 years, general manager of the National Ticket company of that city.

According to Chief Rowe the missing man has been missing from his home in Cleveland since last Thursday afternoon.

His family received a letter from him dated October 31, St. Clair hotel, Portsmouth, stating that he was going to Huntington,

W. Va. It is thought that he had not the means to go there and that he is still in Portsmouth. Williams is a printer.

Boy Tells Of Robbery

The Times-Star had the following details of the robbery in Cincinnati of a Portsmouth boy, brief mention of which was made in Thursday's Times:

"Louis Wiggins, 16, of Portsmouth, O., told the police an odd story of how he was robbed by a man with whom he had been working. The boy said he had earned $10 by shoveling coal in Newport, Ky., and was on his way home. A negro who had worked with him went along as far as the Pennsylvania depot, then left him. A few minutes later Wiggins discovered that his money was gone. Then he remembered that the negro had jostled him at Pearl and Butler streets. He believes that the money was picked out of his pocket at that time."

SOCIETY

Under the auspices of the Portsmouth Federation of Women's Clubs, "Pollyanna" was presented last evening at Trinity Methodist church by Miss Dade Kennedy, of Bellefontaine, who is an attractive reader. Miss Ruth Crawford, one of Portsmouth's talented young musicians, played a beautiful organ selection, after which Miss Kennedy presented her reading with grace and ease. She was small and had a pleasing voice, which fitted perfectly in this popular selection, "Pollyanna," in which she held her audience every minute all through the rendition of the beautiful story written by Eleanor H. Porter. The audience was not as large as had been expected and the people of Portsmouth missed a treat in not hearing this talented reader, who produced her story so well that at one minute the audience would be in tears and the next minute in laughter. Those who attended the entertainment were more than pleased with the way Miss Kennedy presented this popular story. The "users" were Misses Violet Cunningham, Ethel Doery, Sulema Augustin, Madeline Augustin, Leonora Allard and Alice Blake. While in the city Miss Kennedy was entertained at the home of Mrs. W. S. Walker, vice-president of the Federation of Women's Clubs. She left this morning for Union City, Ind., where she will give an entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Bauer, of Seventh street, entertained at dinner last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Carlyle, of Cincinnati, who are on their way to the Western coast to attend the exposition.

Miss Merle Little will have a Hand-Painted China Sale at her home, 1012 Third street, Saturday, Nov. 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Duvendack, who were married about two weeks ago and are keeping house in the Hannah addition, Sciotoville, were given a generous surprise shower last evening, when about one hundred of their friends of the village assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brock and went to the Duvendack home in a body, greatly surprising the happy young couple. All of the guests took with them handsome and useful presents, including bedding, china, linens, cut-glass, silver, aluminum and other things too numerous to mention. The dining table was piled up with the gifts. The guests remained long enough for the bride and groom to open their gifts, which they very much appreciated. Fruit of all sorts was served, it also being taken along by the guests.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES ALL HER LIFE

But Miss Ayres Got a 'Beautiful Complexion' at a Cost of Only $2.00

Nov. 23, 1914:—"All my life my face was covered completely with a mass of pimples, blackheads and blotches. I spent a lot of money on numerous remedies and treatments without success and no relief at all. I tried so many things that I was almost crazy and I am not cured. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap seemed to do me good right from the first. I used two jars of Resinol Ointment and some Resinol Soap, the total cost being only $2.00, and this completely cured my case. My skin is without a blemish and I am the possessor of a beautiful complexion." (Signed) Mabel Ayres, Stone Mountain, Va.

At last a pancake flour to which pure sweet milk has already been added

You know what a delicious, full flavor milk gives to your cooking—how much richer pancakes taste when you make them with milk.

You can get this added deliciousness in Aunt Jemima's Pancake Flour. This favorite pancake flour is prepared with the milk—pure, full flavored—already in it!

Ordinarily, women have to add the milk themselves, or not having milk at hand many use water, and water never gives the same full flavor.

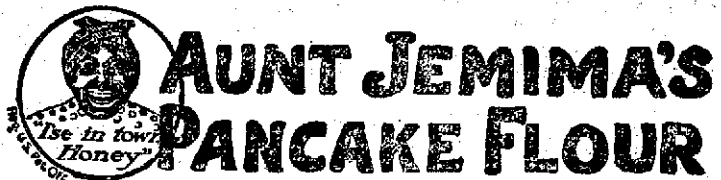

So that it will be easy for every woman who uses Aunt Jemima's to have the finest pancakes possible to make, pure, sweet milk is already added. In Aunt Jemima's you get the one perfect, complete, prepared pancake flour.

Already proved a success

Well-known cooking and food experts have tested Aunt Jemima's. They are enthusiastic over it. They appreciate what the addition of milk means in added convenience and in greater deliciousness.

Try Aunt Jemima's and you will have the same experience. See how much better your pancakes are when you use the flour that has the milk mixed in it. See why every one who tastes Aunt Jemima's pancakes is so enthusiastic about their wonderful flavor!

"Made in a minute—the milk's mixed in it"

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 88.

I first saw a picture show. Do you need lots of fine clothes, and about how much money would one need to start with. Now Dolly please answer these questions the best you can as I am very anxious to know all of them.

LITTLE TWEDDIE.

It requires a pretty general education to be a movie star and you cannot become a star immediately. You begin by playing very minor parts and then if you show talent you may secure some better parts and if you don't you are let out. For the names of film companies look in a motion picture magazine. Any number of them can be purchased at the local news stands, and also at the box office of the picture houses. You have to have clothes to suit the parts you play and of course you may need a great many different ones. You will need enough money to carry you along for several months in case you do not get a place, or work was not frequent enough to keep you in food, clothes and pin money.

Dear Miss Dolly.—In what person, or how are wedding gifts acknowledged? I refer to those received from friends of the groom whom I do not know. How should announcements be addressed when mailed to men friends of the bride?

Dear Miss Dolly.—Do you have to have much of an education to be a moving picture star. Please give me the address of a good film company. It has been my ambition to be a movie star ever since I was a child.

Dear Miss Wise.—As you have helped so many I thought I would come to you for advice. I am 47 years old and am going to get married next week. Would like your advice on what kind of a dress would be suitable for the season.

A Mistaken Idea

Many men are under the impression in purchasing a suit of clothes that they are getting a custom tailored suit on account of being measured and having a few little extras put in the suit that are not usually found. They are actually getting a special made suit, it is tailored in a factory that makes only ready-made clothes. Now if you want a custom-tailored suit—HALL BROS. in the Masonic Temple will supply you—this firm has in their employ a designer and cutter also tailors who work on nothing but the best of custom tailored garments—each suit pattern shown is of individual weave and color—no two alike, the prices are reasonable consistent with good qualities and workmanship.

FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN

As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Dispelled Backache, Headaches and Dizziness.

Piqua, Ohio.—"I would be very ungrateful if I failed to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the praise it deserves, for I have taken it at different times and it always relieved me when other medicines failed, and when I hear a woman complain I always recommend it. Last winter I was attacked with a severe case of organic weakness. I had backache, pains in my hips and over my kidneys, headache, dizziness, lassitude, had no energy, limbs ached and I was always tired. I was hardly able to do my housework. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on one other occasion, and it had helped me so I took it again and it has built me up, until now I feel like a new woman. You have my hearty consent to use my name and testimonial in any way and I hope it will benefit suffering women."—Mrs. ORPHEA TURNER, 431 S. Wayne St., Piqua, Ohio.

trated a robbery at the home of Claris Wood, a contracting carpenter, of No. 922 Eighth street, Wednesday night, about 10:30.

Mrs. Keger was startled by a noise outside and a moment later plainly heard footsteps. She called to her daughter for the flash-light and discovered a man crouched between the two homes. He bolted from the premises. Mrs. Wood, who with her daughter had just returned from the Baptist Sunday school social at the Branner building on Chillicothe street, heard him running through the yard and called the police.

Chief B. E. Allen made a thorough search of the neighborhood, but without result. Prowlers have been particularly active in that vicinity and several petty thefts have occurred there in the past year.

WILL OPEN BIDS

Bids will be opened at the city building Saturday noon for the contracts of paving Linden avenue 550 ft. north from Gallia street and Armstrong Place 600 ft. north from Gallia.

It is not likely that more than the sewer work will be done on these two improvements this year. They are the last two streets to be let, the Kendall avenue paving ordinances having been held up by city council.

Work was started Friday morning laying brick on Gay street, between Eleventh and Thirteenth streets. Park avenue is completed and work is progressing on Garfield street, where the street railway company has its track lined up again. The foundation has been started on Market Road and some of the curb and gutter have been put in. Norfolk and Walnut streets are both finished and the barricades at the upper end of the latter will be removed Saturday, and the street opened clear through.

Boy Tells Of Robbery

The Times-Star had the following details of the robbery in Cincinnati of a Portsmouth boy, brief mention of which was made in Thursday's Times:

"Louis Wiggins, 16, of Portsmouth, O., told the police an odd story of how he was robbed by a man with whom he had been working. The boy said he had earned $36 by shoveling coal in Newport, Ky., and was on his way home. A negro who had worked with him went along as far as the Pennsylvania depot, then left him. A few minutes later Wiggins discovered that his money was gone. Then he remembered that the negro had jostled him at Pearl and Butler streets. He believes that the money was picked out of his pocket at that time."

MR. KAPS' OPPORTUNITY.

Mr. H. H. Kaps, who was elected mayor Tuesday, has it in his power to make a splendid record for himself in that office. He comes into power faced with graver responsibilities than usual with an incumbent of that office, the most important of all being the completion of the water works. Upon the manner in which this is handled, upon the conviction of the people that he has looked after their interests or that he has neglected them, will, in a large measure depend the success of his administration. Then too there will be close scrutiny of the manner in which the financial affairs of the city are handled, whether economy is practiced, or whether city money is handled extravagantly. In a large way the appointments of advisors will also be factors in his success or failure as head of the city government. Altogether it is a big job that confronts the new mayor and one that will require the expenditure of all his energies and good judgment to handle satisfactorily.

Fortunately for the city, Mr. Kaps is a man of strong character and individuality, and he has had large experience with city affairs in his capacity as a public works contractor. He has, we believe, an earnest desire to give the city the best there is in him, and will exhaust every effort to do that which is best, in general, for the city. So long as he does that he should have the support of all good citizens.

THE WAR COMES WEST AND SOUTH

Not since the similar period in 1914, when German armies approached Calais and Warsaw, when Antwerp fell and the Battles of Flanders opened, has there been so widespread and considerable fighting on all fronts as in the month of October. In all respects it has been one of the most dramatic, absorbingly interesting and, in point of casualties, terrible months of the world conflict.

In any review of this month of battle three separate fields claim attention. In the West, after months and months of comparative calm, there flamed forth the most desperate offensive on the Allied side since September, 1914. In the East, Russia at last brought the great German drive to a halt and stood impregnable behind the Dvina and the central swamps, even pressed forward perceptibly on the Galician front. Finally, along the Danube, Germany undertook a third great venture, a terrific drive to force the road to Constantinople, enlisted Bulgaria, compelled Greece to repudiate her agreement with Serbia, forced Rumania to continue her neutrality, and began the work of hacking through the little Slav state and clearing the road by which the Crusaders of other centuries approached Byzantium.

Momentarily the Allied successes in the West, incidental and local, circumscribed and incomplete, commanded the attention of the world, but only momentarily. For with brief delay, the whole planet became engrossed in the spectacular march toward the Golden Horn of the nation, which, as it marched, affirmed that it purposed to follow the road of Alexander the Great to India, and, adopting the principles of Napoleon, endeavor to strike down the British Empire through Egypt.

To one school of observers, many of whose views I share, the Balkan campaign represented the last desperate effort of Germany to destroy, not the armies, but the nerves of her opponents; to close the year by a brilliant and impressive success; to stand at the opening of 1916 with Belgium, Northern France, Poland, and the fringes of Russia in her possession, with the Balkans brought to heel and the road of Teutonic empire running unimpeded from Berlin to Baghdad and from Hamburg to the North Sea to Beirut on the Eastern Mediterranean.

In such posture Germany could offer peace to her opponents, peace that the people of her opponent nations might listen to, if, as Germany reasoned, they were weary of a war still seemingly hopeless and of sacrifices still outwardly fruitless. Such a peace would mean the retirement of the Germans from Belgium and France, and the restoration of the conditions of 1914 in the west of Europe. It would mean certain surrenders to Russia on the east and perhaps to Italy on the south, but it would leave to Germany and her Austrian ally the hegemony of the Balkans, the supremacy in Turkey, the control of Asia Minor and the roads by land to British India and Egypt.

In sum, it would clear the way for the next step in German world policies, the later struggle to be waged with England alone, or with England and Russia at most. It would represent the confession that sea power had decided the outcome in the North Sea and the Channel, and that French resistance had demolished the earlier notion of French decadence. It would represent a decision to abandon the West for the East and seek the German "place in the sun" along the single land route that was open to German expansion.

But, if it failed, if it did not attain the immediate object, that is to open the road to Constantinople; if it failed in the larger purpose of capturing the imagination and mobilizing the fear of the enemy, then these same observers recognized that it would have no permanent influence in shaping the result of the war. It would presumably compel the Anglo-French troops to quit Gallipoli. It would mean the extinction of Serbia, the transfer of Turkish armies from the Dardanelles to Egypt, but it would not break the deadly blockade of the British fleet, it would not lessen the pressure of the Allies in the West, or of Russia in the East; it would redouble the efforts of Italy in the South, threatened with new and more dangerous possibilities in the eastern Mediterranean and along the North African coast.

To the other school of observers it was merely the disclosing of the main purpose of Germany, the consequence of her successes in the West and the East, which had removed all immediate peril from her own frontiers and permitted her to use a portion of her armies in carrying out purposes and following ambitions long cherished. To them it was an evidence of confidence, not desperation, of wisdom, not madness.—From "A Month of Battles", by Frank H. Simonds, in the American Review of Reviews for November.

THE NEXT EVENT

The Gallipoli Tribune says that down in Tennessee they have a revised version of Dixie Land, built to suit prohibition conditions. We quote one verse:

Away down South wheed dey all spit cotton,
Bu de barroom's gone, but not fo' gotten,
Took away, Took away, Took away, from Dixie Land,
Dis prohibition am a holy terrah,
It's made the South one great Sahara,
Look away, Look away, Look away from Dixie Land!

Anyway our good young governor can claim credit for swatting the amendment to extend the terms of county officers. He came out against it in his most vehement fashion, characterizing it as a fraud on the people, and lo and behold it was defeated by 332,000. Some victory that, for the governor.

Sherman Eagle's town, Gallipoli, continues to be the one bright spot of Col. Roosevelt's Progressive party in the whole United States. It elected a Progressive as mayor Tuesday, and gave him a good round majority at that.

We gather from the Waverly Democrat that everybody up there snatched a little something from the election and while nobody is shoutingly happy, each one is happy that the other fellow did not get more—a sort of negative happiness as it were. And we presume the merry all the year scrap will continue with unabated vigor.

The Duke of Manchester can hardly be called a piker. He owes a million and he only has a thousand with which to meet his obligations. But then as long as his American wife retains hold of the Zimmerman millions the Duke is not liable to go to the poor house.

A European statesman who wants to preserve his reputation will hardly be found hanging around in hopes that the job of being cabinet minister will come his way, at least not while the war continues.

We really think that Congressman Kearns should write another letter telling us that he loved us all the time and that he never intended his letter of good-bye to mean anything.

It is said by well informed Republicans that the one dead sure thing about the Kaps administration is that "Mooge" will not sweep the streets. Well, well, can the city survive a Republican city administration without "Mooge" on the pay roll?

We are here to remark that in passing around the many good things of the new administration a mighty big piece of turkey should be set aside at the first table for the most important factor of the Kaps campaign, our old friend Hon. N. B. Gilliland.

PART OF HATTON LOOT?

Every day that the TIMES is published, builders list their bargains on TIMES WANT AD page.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O-O-MCINTYRE.

New York, Nov. 5.—For the past five years Renold Wolf, the bright particular star of the Morning Telegraph, and W. A. Brady have gone their ways in silence when their paths crossed. So it was with pleasurable anticipation that 1000 Friars heard Wolf introduce Brady at the dinner given at the Astor complimentary to Brady.

Brady has lately cleaned up so much money in war stocks that he has to bust right out laughing at the show business every time he looks at a ticket. The first of the quips and quorks that came from the facetious Wolf in his most Wolfian style was: "I can say one thing for Brady. During his career as a manager he has been consistently democratic—he has never believed in royalty."

"On several occasions," said Wolf "Brady has tried to be an actor. Once he put on a Roman drama in which a lion figured, but the lion quit after the first performance. He alleged that Brady bit him."

And Brady laughed so hard he slipped out of his chair.

Sam H. Harris knows a theatrical manager who puts a clause in his contract providing for half salary in election week. This week he docked a company that was playing in Toronto.

Bob Fitzsimmons has been served with a notice of ejection from his fine country home at West Dunellen, N. J. His latest wife has quit him and his children are living apart. Of the thousands who were glad to be his friends in happier times, few have remembered him.

"I guess I cannot raise a five dollar note," he told a friend the other day. The battle worn, knock-kneed, ruddy man who has battered his way to a world's championship by the might of his arm and the staunchness of his heart has not lost hope, however. He is still the same cheerful fellow.

Fitzsimmons has had fortune after fortune and has also been married four times. His first wife divorced him, the second died, the third and fourth also divorced him.

The New York police are being severely criticised for arranging an unnecessary spectacular raid on a pool room where women bet on the races. Nearly two score women, who happened to be weak in this particular, but are otherwise respectable, were humiliated and in several cases homes have been broken up as the result of the expose.

One woman died from the shock when the police dashed into the place as if storming a citadel. It has been proven that prior to smashing in the door with axes the police had procured sufficient evidence to make important arrests.

Evelyn Nesbit has returned to Broadway entirely shorn of the name of Thaw. She declares that she will never use it again and several press agents have nearly lost their jobs because they insisted on calling her Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. She will not even allow them to refer to her as the former Mrs. Thaw.

Evelyn is singing a song called "When You're In Love With Someone Who Is Not In Love With You."

With You". Whether she has stage ability or not she has personality for every song she introduces becomes a bit. She has her songs written to order and selects her own titles.

Last season she selected a title for a song called "There's a Little Spark of Love Still Burning", and all the wisecracks on Broadway declared that it meant a reconciliation between she and her husband.

Rose Tapley, a movie actress, has a plum tree in full bloom at her home in East Orange. She thinks the tree has been ill advised.

The Flag! The Flag! The grand old Flag! What does it mean to you? That bright and glorious ensign—the Red, White and Blue! It means the march of Progress when the continent was new; The longing of the colonies in striving to subdue.

The Symbol of the spirit that produced our Washington; Aspirations of our heroes ere Liberty was won;

'Twas dimly seen at morning's dawn—the dawn of Lexington; Its outlines traced at Concord, where patriots' blood first ran!

It is the Constitution, and the goal of future years;

For our fathers caught the vision through all their doubts and fears; Then Liberty will bathe our Flag in fervent, thankful tears.

In the great fraternal strife when stilled was every mirth, Lincoln knew its meaning, and saved the last, best hope of earth;

And bathed again in heroes' blood, Old Glory had rebirth; And Hope then girded Freedom with a stronger battle girth.

It waves an inspiration over Freedom's blood bought land; The sum of sacrifices of each patriot band;

All that Purity, Truth and Justice ever can command; That's the meaning of the Flag, as it waves superbly grand.

NOSE CLOGGED FROM A COLD OR CATARRH

Apply Cream in Nostrils To Open Up Air Passages.

Ah! What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more yawning, sniffling, mucous discharge, headache, dizziness—no struggling to breathe at night, your cold or catarrh is gone.

Don't stay stuffy up! Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Ely's Cream Balm is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer has been seeking. It's just splendid!

DAKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Grandma's recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur dawns so naturally that nobody can tell.

"Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also cures dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by taking at any drug store for "Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 60 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you daken your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.

PARTY LEADERS IN GREECE CONFERRING OVER NEW CABINET

Athens, Nov. 4. (Via London, Nov. 5).—King Constantine has summoned leaders of all parties to confer on the situation resulting from the overthrow of Zaimis cabinet and it is expected the ministerial crisis will end within 24 hours.

Athens, Nov. 5. (Via London).—One of the statements of M. Venizelos, which attracted especial attention in the chamber of deputies today was that Great Britain's offer to cede the island of Cyprus to Greece was independent of the result of the war while other promises of concessions were conditional on the success of the allies. Greece, he said, was to acquire part of the Vilayet of Bursa and Bulgarian Thrace while Bulgaria was to be short of the territory she gained as a result of the Balkan war. All this he declared, would be obtained by Greece at small cost, since the proposals of the entente powers required only the assistance of smaller units of the Greek fleet.

Referring to the allegation that Serbia had failed to send against the Bulgarians 150,000 men in accordance with the provisions of the treaty with the alliance, M. Venizelos said: "Actually, had 150,000 troops opposed to the Bulgarians, if Greece had taken the field, the former premier asserted, her army today would have been within a short distance of Sofia, and Serbia could have devoted her energies to holding back the Austro-Germans, whose numbers were less than had been reported."

ELECTED TO TWO OFFICES

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 5.—A peculiar development in Tuesday's election came to light today when it became known that voters in Rietownship elected Moses Gross and Joseph Young to both justice of the peace, and Constable Gross is reported as saying Young could be constable when he was on the bench and would be constable when Young was on the bench. The secretary of state will be asked for a ruling as to whether the men may legally hold both offices.

Thousands of people go through TIMES WANT ADS every night.

AUSTRO GERMAN EFFECT JUNCTION WITH BULGARIANS

Saloniki, Nov. 2.—Via Paris, Nov. 5. (Delayed).—French headquarters admits that Austro-German cavalry has effected a junction with the Bulgars in the Belian region near Negotin but does not say in this district.

is so difficult it is doubtful whether the union of forces will serve any practical end. Negotin is on the Danube, at a point where only the river separates Rumanian territory from the frontiers of Bulgaria and Serbia.

Paris, Nov. 5.—Bulgarian artillery violently bombarded advanced forts of Nish on the Nieman river Wednesday, says a Saloniki despatch to the Matin filed yesterday. They captured Nish Kavala, a small town two hours march northeast of Nish.

VILLA MASSING AN ARMY OF 13,000 MEN TO RENEW BATTLE

Naco, Ariz., Nov. 5.—With the statement by Gen. Francisco Villa that he was on his way to Hermosillo and was busy assembling provisions for his men at Villa Verde, the center of interest in the border hostilities between Mexican factions today shifted to the south. On the roads stretching 167 miles south and southeast from Naco, Villa said he had 13,000 troops, which he was planning to concentrate along the line of march to the southwest metropolis.

In the face of Villa's reiterated assurances that no property in the Chihuahua mining district would be molested, it was reported that the Catamarca Consolidated Copper Company paid $25,000 for immunity. Conflicting reports were received here concerning looting and destruction of property in this district.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 5.—Conditions here were rapidly assuming normal proportions today. With the exodus of the last Villa forces from this section, work of clearing the battle field of dead and wounded was proceeding. Most of the 3,000 refugees who sought shelter in Douglas and the surrounding towns during the battle between Carranza and Villa forces, have returned to their homes on the Mexican side.

American ranchers have sought federal assistance to prevent the return of their horses which were stolen to Mexico. They claimed that Calles' raiding parties had driven 1500 head across the border during the last few weeks.

Another Advance In Oil

Pittsburgh, Nov. 5.—Another advance in the price of all grades of crude oil was announced at the opening of the market here today by the South Pennsylvania Oil Co., 67c per barrel being added to each, except Ragland, which was quoted three cents higher. The new prices are: Pennsylvania Crude, $1.85; Mercer black, New Castle and Corning, $1.35; Cabell, $1.40; Somerset, $1.27; Ragland, 68 cents.

Producers who have been following the trend of the market since prices began to advance several months ago, predicted $2 for Pennsylvania crude, the base of this market before next spring.

THE WEATHER

Ohio.—Fair tonight, somewhat cooler in northeast portion. Saturday increasing cloudiness and warmer. Probably rain in south portion.

GERMAN FORCES BATTER HILLS INTO SHAPELESS MASSES

Saloniki, Nov. 2.—Via Paris, Nov. 5. (Delayed).—Serbia resistance to the Austro-German drive is of the most heroic character, according to travelers who have arrived here from the front. While the forces under Field Marshal von Mackensen number only 150,000 they are supplied with such a tremendous weight of artillery that they are able to batter the very hills into shapeless masses with shells from their 12-inch mortars and keep up a constant cloudburst of shrapnel under which the Serbs are forced to retire slowly without even seeing their antagonists. The native troops, especially in mountain fighting, take advantage of every natural position, however, forcing the Austro-Germans to dislodge them, and giving no ground until compelled to do so. Their spirit is courageous but desperate.

Big War Contract

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 5.—It was announced here today that the Union Switch and Signal Company had booked contracts with foreign governments for shells to the value of $7,000,000 and a plant was being erected adjacent to the company's plant at Swissville, a suburb, where the projectiles will be made. Delivery of the greater part of the shells, it was stated, must be made before July 1, next.

WANTS MONEY BACK

Chicago, Nov. 5.—W. P. Stimmet, of Phoebe, has appealed to federal officials to recover $30,000 in money and his note for $24,500 out of which he alleges he was swindled in Springfield, Ill., on a fake horse racing scheme.

MAJOR BAKER HONORED

Cleveland, Nov. 5.—Mayor Newton D. Baker is slated to be the next national president of the Consumers' League which will close its convention here tonight with a public meeting.

PRESIDENT EMPHASIZES NEED OF AMPLE EQUIPMENT FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE PROGRAM

New York, Nov. 5.—President Wilson opened the administration campaign for its national defense program in a comprehensive and carefully prepared address delivered here last night at the Manhattan Club banquet. He declared solemnly that the United States had not aggressive purposes, but must be prepared to defend itself to assume "full liberty and self development."

Significantly, he said that "with ourselves in this great matter we associate all the peoples of our own hemisphere, adding that 'we wish not only for the United States but for them, the fullest freedom of independent growth of action'."

The president was received with enthusiastic applause as he entered the banquet hall and during his address. The hall was decorated with American flags and filled even to the galleries with Democrats happy over their victory of Tuesday in New York City. When the president arose to speak, every one jumped up and applauded until he was forced to signal for quiet.

"Within a year," said the president, "we have witnessed what we did not think possible, a great European conflict involving many of the greatest nations of the world. The influences of the great war are everywhere in the air. All Europe is in battle. Force everywhere speaks out with a loud and imperious voice in a titanic struggle of government, and from end of our own dear country to the other men are asking one another what our own force is, how far we are prepared to maintain ourselves against any interference with our national action or development."

The president called upon "men of all shades of political opinion" to rally to the spirit of progress and warning that "if men differ with me in this vital matter, I shall ask them to make it clear how far and in what way they are interested in making the permanent interests of the country safe against disturbance."

There is no need for the country to feel panic-stricken, the president declared, "because it stands in friendly relations with the world. He spoke of the United States as "a nation too big and generous to be exacting, but yet courageous enough to defend its rights and the liberties of its people wherever assailed or involved."

Outlining the defense program, the president said it included an increased standing army; the training within the next three years of 400,000 citizen-soldiers to be raised in annual forces of 135,000 and the strengthening of the naval guard. He laid particular emphasis on the need of ample equipment.

The president declared that the navy already is "a very great and efficient force," but that in order to bring to a point of "extraordinary force and efficiency," a definite policy must be adopted and hastened and an adequate supply of men provided.

In addition, to speaking on national defense the president attacked "men who love other countries better than America" and men who stir up religious and sectarian antagonism. He declared that such men would be "called to a reckoning."

President's Speech

The president said in part: "Mr. Toastmaster and Gentlemen:—

"I warmly felicitate the club upon the completion of fifty years of successful and interesting life. Club life may be made to mean a great deal to those who know how to use it. I have no doubt that to a great many of you have some genuine stimulation in the associations of this place and that as the years have multiplied you have seen more and more the useful ends which may be served by organizations of this sort."

"But I have not come to speak wholly of that, for there are others of your own members who can speak of the club with a knowledge and an intelligence which no one can have who has not been intimately associated with it. Men band themselves together for the sake of association, no doubt, but also for something greater and deeper than that—because they are conscious of common interests lying outside their business occupations because they are members of the same community and in frequent intercourse find mutual stimulation and a real maximum of vitality and power."

"A year and a half ago our thought would have been almost altogether of great domestic questions. They are many and of vital consequence. We must and shall address ourselves to their solution with diligence, firmness and self-possession, notwithstanding we find ourselves in the midst of a world disturbed by disaster and upheaval with terrible war; but our thought is now inevitably of new things about which formerly we gave ourselves little concern. We are thinking now chiefly of our relations with the rest of the world—not our commercial relations—about those we have thought and planned always—but about our political relations, our duties as an individual and independent force in the world to ourselves, our neighbors and the world itself."

Principles Established

"Our principles are well known. It is not necessary to avow them again. We believe in political liberty and founded our great government to obtain it, the liberty of men and peoples—of men to choose their own lives and of peoples to choose their own allegiance."

Peace Predominates

"In no man's mind, I am sure, is there even raised the question of the wilful use of force on our part against any nation or people. No matter what military or naval force the United States might develop, statesmen throughout the whole world might rest assured that we were gathering that force not for attack in any quarter, not for aggression of any kind, not for the satisfaction of any political or international ambition, but merely to make sure of our own security. We have it in mind to be prepared, but not for war, but only for defense; and with the thought constantly in our minds (Continued On Page Four)

Question Of Damages Up To Supreme Court

Washington, Nov. 5.—Whether the personal representative of a railroad employee killed while engaged in interstate commerce may recover from a railroad for the injury to the decedent in cases of "instantaneous death of the employee" was presented to the supreme court today for decision. The case in which the point was argued was that of W. N. Shewalter, administrator of Robert K. Shewalter, against the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio railway.

Robert K. Shewalter, a fireman on that road, was killed outright when his locomotive hit a boulder which had rolled down the mountain side across the track. Judgment for $15,000 was rendered but later reduced to $10,000.

The supreme court of Tennessee held that no recovery could be had for injury to the deceased when his death had been instantaneous. No claim for pecuniary loss to survivors was averred in the suit. Attorneys for the estate, however, claim the defense is a relic of the barbarism of the common law, abolished by the 1910 amendment to the federal employment liability law.

President Spends Day With His Fiancee

New York, Nov. 5.—President Wilson planned to spend the better part of today with Mrs. Norman Galt, his fiancee, and relatives who are now in New York. Despite the late hour at which the president left the Manhattan club banquet last night he arose early today at the home of Colonel E. M. House, where he spent the night, and called upon Mrs. Galt at her hotel about 9 o'clock. A few minutes later they left for a long automobile drive after which they were to attend a luncheon in their honor by Cleveland Lodge.

President Wilson had planned to leave for Washington at 10 o'clock but deferred his departure until late afternoon in order to attend this luncheon.

Among the guests were Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, the president's cousin, who accompanied Mrs. Galt on her shopping tour here, Miss Gertrude Gordon of Washington and Dr. Carey T. Grayson, the president's naval aide and physician. The president has taken advantage of this visit to New York to talk informally with various Democrats.

Princeton To Play Harvard Saturday

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 5.—Expressing the opinion that his men are on edge for the big gridiron battle with Harvard tomorrow, and not caring to risk injury to any of them, Head Coach Rush planned only the lightest kind of practice for the Princeton team today.

Signal drills and instructions how to meet the attack of the crimson eleven was all the work Rush had mapped out for his players. The stars were to be lined against the scrub team for the purpose of opposing the plays Percy Haughton, the Harvard coach, is supposed to have taught his men, but there was to be no scrimmage, the Tigers merely walking through the plays.

May Start Later

The December meetings of the National and American leagues in New York will be fraught with many vital issues and the least of them is not the war with the Federal league. A survey of the reserve lists of the clubs show no less than 639 players are claimed for eligibility in 1916. The New York Highlanders top the list with 47 men and the St. Louis Browns lay claim to 41.

DO TELL, THEY DISCUSSED BASEBALL

Cincinnati, Nov. 5.—Charles Weeghman, of the Chicago Federals, and Harry Sinclair, of the Newark Federals, after holding a conference with August Herrmann, chairman of the national baseball commission here Thursday, left for Chicago and New York, respectively, last night. None of the three would give an inkling as to the exact nature of the matter under discussion and contented themselves with the announcement that "we discussed baseball in general."

Lineup Of P. H. S.

Nutter, R. E.; Anderson, R. T.; Lewis, R. G.; Brandel, C.; Coleman, L. G.; Quinn, L. T.; Williams, L. E.; Morris, C. B.; Brown, R. T. B.; Trone, L. H. B.; Wagner, F. B.; Marling, Ball and Gehres, Subs.

The above is the lineup P. H. S. will probably present when it takes the field against the T. H. S. team on Dec. 10th at gridiron, Ironton, Saturday afternoon. Coach Hart has had the team practicing with the above lineup and will give the Ironton warriors one of their best games of the season.

Captain Duwell and Fullback Wilson will be two of the players badly missed. Thomas at half back has been out of the game for two weeks and is not counted as being one of the regulars on an account of studies. Half-back Shoemaker, regular, and Grassman, of the substitutes list, have been added to the list of ineligible players. Prof. Clark Fullerton, who has the work of making out the eligibility list, gives out the above list of five.

Quinn and Lewis, of the line, reported as being out on account of low studies, will be right in the heart of the game.

The regulars out are Captain Duwell, Wilson and Shoemaker. Added to the trio are Thomas and Grassman of the extra squad.

COACH "SPEEDY" RUSH PUTS PRINCETON ON THE FOOTBALL MAP

McLean (left), Captain Glick and "Speedy" Rush.

At Princeton a new era in football has been ushered in by "Speedy" Rush, the former coach of the University School of Cleveland. Rush made a fine reputation as a prep school coach, and at Princeton has done as much as his best friends hoped for. One sensible move that Princeton is making this year is to keep Captain Glick at quarterback. Driggs is said to be punting better than ever, while Tibbot is one of the season's finds as a drop kicker. McLean, the star tackle, has been showing remarkable form. Princeton, on the whole, has a well balanced team, strong in every department and well versed in fundamental football. It looks now as if the football honors of the year would be divided between Princeton and Cornell.

Stock Is For Sale

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 5.—Stock in the Kansas City American Association Baseball Club today was advertised by the sheriff for sale on the courthouse steps at 9 o'clock Saturday afternoon to satisfy a $350 judgment obtained by a member of the local team.

TO PUT KIBOSH ON TOURING PARTIES

Last night a special train left Chicago for San Francisco. It carried the minor league club owners to the coast city where the annual gathering of the minor folks will take place. One thing which the club owners in the lesser circuits propose to do is to put the kibosh on the post season touring parties which many regard as more of a menace than a benefit to the national game. Recently an aggregation of "All Stars" played a colored team in Indianapolis and the game broke up in a near riot.

BIG CROWD TO TURN OUT

The New Boston Tigers have been practicing hard every afternoon this week and they will be in splendid shape to meet the fast Ashland aggregation at Millbrook gridiron Sunday afternoon. A crowd of over 500 is looked for and over half this number will have to turn out to help the local lads make expenses. The Tigers' lineup will contain such stars as James Lynn, Bob Padan, Hubert Thurman, James Culver, Bob Matthews and John Emmert.

BUCKEYE CORN SPECIAL

The Buckeye Corn Special Tour is promoted in the interest of education and patriotism. It consists of a week of educational travel and patriotic environment. It includes Washington, our National Capital, Philadelphia, the cradle of American independence, and New York, the greatest city in the world.

A member of last year's party, who has since attended the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, says: "I enjoyed last year's Buckeye Corn Special Tour more than my trip to the Pacific, which cost five times as much."

T. P. Kiddle, of Lima, the director of the tour, makes this comment: "I thought we had reached the climax of sight-seeing and entertainment in last year's itinerary; but this year's beats it by a mile."

The Buckeye Corn Special Party travels De Luxe. Everything is first-class from start to finish. Special trains composed of Standard Steel Pullman Sleeping Cars, electric lighted, steam heated, safe, sanitary and comfortable. Each car will have its colored porter ready to respond at the press of the button. Meals enroute will be served in dining cars. It will be traveling as militantly as ever.

In going the Buckeye Corn Specials pass through Pittsburgh by night. Pittsburgh by night reminds one of Dante's Inferno, those brightly tongues of smoke and flame. On the homeward trip they also will see Horse Shoe Curve, one of the most beautiful pieces of mountain scenery east of the Rockies.

Two days will be spent at the National Capital in sight-seeing and entertainment. The program includes a reception at the White House by President Wilson and a boat trip up the Potomac to Mount Vernon, the home and tomb of George Washington, the Father of Our Country.

At Philadelphia the sight-seeing will include John Wanamaker's big store; city hall, the largest municipal building in the world, Music Temple, Curtis Publishing Company Plant, the home of the Saturday Evening Post, the Country Gentleman and the Ladies' Home Journal; Independence Hall; Benjamin Franklin's grave; the Betsy Ross house, the home of the American flag; and a boat trip to League Island, Uncle Sam's largest navy yard, where a special program has been arranged, consisting of a concert by the Marine Band, a drill by

Blue-jackets, an exhibition by flying boats by members of the Aero Club of Pennsylvania, and an hour aboard the Battleship Ohio. In the evening the Buckeye Corn Special Party will enjoy the theatrical sensation of the year, "The Birth of a Nation."

The day in New York will prove the climax. Breakfast will be taken at the famous Waldorf-Astoria. The sight-seeing will include St. Patrick's Cathedral, Grand Central Station, the Bronx Zoo, the Aquarium, a thirty mile boat trip around New York harbor and out on the ocean a mile. The noon meal will be eaten aboard boat. At 6 p. m. the Buckeye Corn Special Party will be seated in the Grand Ball Room of the Hotel Astor, New York's greatest hotel. A theatre party at the Hippodrome will follow. After the show the party will march down Broadway, "The Great White Way," to the Pennsylvania railroad station, where the Buckeye Corn Special will be boarded for the homeward trip.

DO YOU DREAD THE COLD?

Some people enjoy cold weather, take pleasure in winter sports and the keen desire to pick to their cheeks and toes to their lips. (Others shiver from cold and turn blue at the least exposure to frosty air.)

The difference is in the blood. Rich, red blood warms the body. Every long breath of pure cold air increases the oxygen it carries to every part of the system. Thin blood is unable to take up the life-sustaining oxygen. The body becomes chilled and the sufferer is always cold, takes a chill easily and is miserable all winter.

Thin blood is largely transferred to a woman. It results from neglect, because the blood can be built up. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills supply the elements that the body needs to make it rich and red and enable it to carry more oxygen. Building up the red portion of the blood is not all that is needed in cold weather. You must seriously consider taking a course of treatment with these blood-making pills. If you are in doubt write for information.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will send you a booklet "Building Up the Blood" free on request.

CLAIM SUCCESS FOR SYSTEM OF VOTING

Ashtabula, O., Nov. 5.—Supporters of the Hare system of proportional representation in municipal government were claiming success today for the experiment in Ashtabula with this voting method in Tuesday's election, following the announcement of winners by the board of elections last night. Seven councilmen were chosen by the use of first, second, third and other choice votes, involving the transferring of surpluses and elimination of low candidates on successive counts. The system claims to give representation in the council to any faction which can muster one-seventh of the voting strength of the city.

The winners are divided politically into five Republicans, one Democrat and one Socialist; racially into one Italian, one Swede and five native-born; religiously into two Roman Catholics and five of Protestant persuasion. The council will choose a city manager.

Keen Eyesight of Birds.
A hawk can spy a lark upon earth almost exactly the same color at twenty times the distance at which it is perceptible to a man or a dog. A kite soaring out of human sight can still distinguish and pounce upon lizards and field mice on the ground, and the distance from which vultures and eagles can spy their prey is almost incredible.

MR. KAPS' OPPORTUNITY.

Mr. H. H. Kaps, who was elected mayor Tuesday, has it in his power to make a splendid record for himself in that office. He comes into power faced with graver responsibilities than usual with an incumbent of that office, the most important of all being the completion of the water works. Upon the manner in which this is handled, upon the conviction of the people that he has looked after their interests or that he has neglected them, will, in a large measure depend the success of his administration. Then too there will be close scrutiny of the manner in which the financial affairs of the city are handled, whether economy is practiced or whether city money is handled extravagantly. In a large way the appointments of advisors will also be factors in his success or failure as head of the city government. Altogether it is a big job that confronts the new mayor and one that will require the expenditure of all his energies and good judgment to handle satisfactorily.

Fortunately for the city, Mr. Kaps is a man of strong character and individuality, and he has had large experience with city affairs in his capacity as a public works contractor. He has, we believe, an earnest desire to give the city the best there is in him, and will exhaust every effort to do that which is best, in general, for the city. So long as he does that he should have the support of all good citizens.

THE WAR COMES WEST AND SOUTH

Not since the similar period in 1914, when German armies approached Calais and Warsaw, when Antwerp fell and the Battles of Flanders opened, has there been so widespread and considerable fighting on all fronts as in the month of October. In all respects it has been one of the most dramatic, absorbingly interesting and, in point of casualties, terrible months of the world conflict.

In any review of this month of battle three separate fields claim attention. In the West, after months and months of comparative calm, there flamed forth the most desperate offensive on the Allied side since September, 1914. In the East, Russia at last brought the great German drive to a halt and stood impregnable behind the Dvina and the central swamps, even pressed forward perceptibly on the Galician front. Finally, along the Danube, Germany undertook a third great venture, a terrific drive to force the road to Constantinople, enlisted Bulgaria, compelled Greece to repudiate her agreement with Serbia, forced Rumania to continue her neutrality, and began the work of hacking through the little Slav state and clearing the road by which the Crusaders of other centuries approached Byzantium.

Momentarily the Allied successes in the West, incidental and local, circumscribed and incomplete, commanded the attention of the world, but only momentarily. For with brief delay, the whole planet became engrossed in the spectacular march toward the Golden Horn of the nation, which, as it marched, affirmed that it purposed to follow the road of Alexander the Great to India, and, adopting the principles of Napoleon, endeavor to strike down the British Empire through Egypt.

To one school of observers, many of whose views I share, the Balkan campaign represented the last desperate effort of Germany to destroy, not the armies, but the nerves of her opponents; to close the year by a brilliant and impressive success; to stand at the opening of 1916 with Belgium, Northern France, Poland, and the fringes of Russia in her possession, with the Balkans brought to heel and the road of Teutonic empire running uninterrupted from Berlin to Bagdad and from Hamburg to the North Sea to Beirut on the Eastern Mediterranean.

In such posture Germany could offer peace to her opponents, peace that the people of her opponent nations might listen to, if, as Germany reasoned, they were weary of a war still seemingly hopeless and of sacrifices still outwardly fruitless. Such a peace would mean the retirement of the Germans from Belgium and France, and the restoration of the conditions of 1914 in the west of Europe. It would mean certain surrenders to Russia on the east and perhaps to Italy on the south, but it would leave to Germany and her Austrian ally the hegemony of the Balkans, the supremacy in Turkey, the control of Asia Minor and the roads by land to British India and Egypt.

In sum, it would clear the way for the next step in German world policies, the later struggle to be waged with England alone, or with England and Russia at most. It would represent the confession that sea power had decided the outcome in the North Sea and the Channel, and that French resistance had demolished the earlier notion of French decadence. It would represent a decision to abandon the West for the East and seek the German "place in the sun" along the single land route that was open to German expansion.

But, if it failed, if it did not attain the immediate object, that is to open the road to Constantinople; if it failed in the larger purpose of capturing the imagination and mobilizing the fear of the enemy, then these same observers recognized that it would have no permanent influence in shaping the result of the war. It would presumably compel the Anglo-French troops to quit Gallipoli. It would mean the extinction of Serbia, the transfer of Turkish armies from the Dardanelles to Egypt, but it would not break the deadly blockade of the British fleet, it would not lessen the pressure of the Allies in the West, or of Russia in the East; it would redouble the efforts of Italy in the South, threatened with new and more dangerous possibilities in the eastern Mediterranean and along the North African coast.

To the other school of observers it was merely the disclosing of the main purpose of Germany, the consequence of her successes in the West and the East, which had removed all immediate peril from her own frontiers and permitted her to use a portion of her armies in carrying out purposes and following ambitions long cherished. To them it was no evidence of confidence, not desperation, of wisdom, not madness.—From "A Month of Battles", by Frank H. Simonds, in the American Review of Reviews for November.

The Gallipoli Tribune says that down in Tennessee they have a revised version of Dixie Land, built to suit prohibition conditions. We quote one verse:

Away down South wheeh dey all spit cotton,
 En de barroom's gone, but not fo' gotten,
 Took away, Took away, Took away, from Dixie Land,
 Dis prohibition am a holy terrah,
 It's made the South one-great Sahdrah,
 Look away, Look away, Look away from Dixie Land!

Anyway our good young governor can claim credit for swatting the amendment to extend the terms of county officers. He came out against it in his most vehement fashion, characterizing it as a fraud on the people, and lo and behold and it was defeated by 332,000. Some victory that, for the governor.

Sherman Eagle's town, Gallipoli, continues to be the one bright spot of Col. Roosevelt's Progressive party in the whole United States. It elected a Progressive as mayor Tuesday, and gave him a good round majority at that.

We gather from the Waverly Democrat that everybody up there snatched a little something from the election and while nobody is shooting happy, each one is happy that the other fellow did not get more—a sort of negative happiness as it were. And we presume the merry all the year scrap will continue with unabated vigor.

The Duke of Manchester can hardly be called a piker. He owes a million and he only has a thousand with which to meet his obligations. But then as long as his American wife retains hold of the Zimmerman millions the Duke is not liable to go to the poor house.

A European statesman who wants to preserve his reputation will hardly be found hanging around in hopes that the job of being cabinet minister will come his way, at least not while the war continues.

We really think that Congressman Kearns should write another letter telling us that he loved us all the time and that he never intended his letter of good-bye to mean anything.

It is said by well informed Republicans that the one dead sure thing about the Kaps administration is that "Mooge" will not sweep the streets. Well, well, can the city survive a Republican city administration without "Mooge" on the pay roll?

We are here to remark that in passing around the many good things of the new administration a mighty big piece of turkey should be set aside at the first table for the most important factor of the Kaps campaign, our old friend, Hon. N. B. Gilliland.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY
 O.O. MCINTYRE.

New York, Nov. 5.—For the past five years Remond Wolf, the bright particular star of the Morning Telegraph, and W. A. Brady have gone their ways in silence when their paths crossed. So it was with pleasurable anticipation that 1000 Friars heard Wolf introduce Brady at the dinner given at the Astor complimentary to Brady.

Brady has lately cleaned up so much money in war stocks that he has to bust right out laughing at the show business every time he looks at a ticket. The first of the quips and quarks that came from the factious Wolf in his most Wolfian style was: "I can say one thing for Brady. During his career as a manager he has been consistently democratic—he has never believed in royalty."

"On several occasions," said Wolf "Brady has tried to be an actor. Once he put on a Roman drama in which a lion figured, but the lion quit after the first performance. He alleged that Brady bit him."

And Brady laughed so hard he slipped out of his chair.

Sam H. Harris knows a theatrical manager who puts a clause in his contract providing for half salary in election week. This week he docked a company that was playing in Toronto.

Bob Fitzsimmons has been served with a notice of ejection from his fine country home at West Dunellen, N. J. His latest wife has quit him and his children are living apart. Of the thousands who were glad to be his friends in happier times, few have remembered him.

"I guess I cannot raise a five dollar note," he told a friend the other day. The battle worn, knock-kneed, ruddy man who has battered his way to a world's championship by the might of his arm and the staunchness of his heart has not lost hope, however. He is still the same cheerful fellow.

Fitzsimmons has had fortune after fortune and has also been married four times. His first wife divorced him, the second died, the third and fourth also divorced him.

The New York police are being severely criticised for arranging an unnecessary spectacular raid on a pool room where women bet on the races. Nearly two score women, who happened to be weak in this particular, but are otherwise respectable, were humiliated and in several cases homes have been broken up as the result of the expose.

One woman died from the shock when the police dashed into the place as if storming a citadel. It has been proven that prior to smashing in the door with axes the police had procured sufficient evidence to make important arrests.

Evelyn Nesbit has returned to Broadway entirely shorn of the name of Thaw. She declares that she will never use it again and several press agents have tearfully lost their jobs because they insisted on calling her Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. She will not even allow them to refer to her as the former Mrs. Thaw.

Evelyn is singing a song called "When You're In Love With Someone Who Is Not In Love With You". Whether she has stage ability or not she has personality for every song she introduces becomes a bit. She has her songs written to order and selects her own titles.

Last season she selected a title for a song called "There's a Little Spark of Love Still Burning", and all the wisecracks on Broadway declared that it meant a reconciliation between she and her husband.

The Flag! The Flag! The grand old Flag! What does it mean to you? That bright and glorious ensign—the Red, White and Blue! It means the march of Progress when the continent was new; The longing of the colonics in striving to subdue.

The Symbol of the spirit that produced our Washington; Aspirations of our heroes ere Liberty was won;

'Twas dimly seen at morning's dawn—the dawn of Lexington; Its outlines traced at Concord, where patriots' blood first ran!

It is the Constitution, and the goal of future years; For our fathers caught the vision through all their doubts and fears; Then Liberty will bathe our Flag in fervent, thankful tears.

In the great fraternal strife when stillness was every mirth, Lincoln knew its meaning, and saved the last, best hope of earth;

And bathed again in heroes' blood, Old Glory had rebirth; And Hope then girded Freedom with a stronger battle girth.

It waves an inspiration ever Freedom's blood bought land; The sum of sacrifices of each patriot band; All that Purity, Truth and Justice ever can command; That's the meaning of the Flag, as it waves superbly grand.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Grandma's recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur darkens so naturally that nobody can tell.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also cures dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get rid of gray was to make it some. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

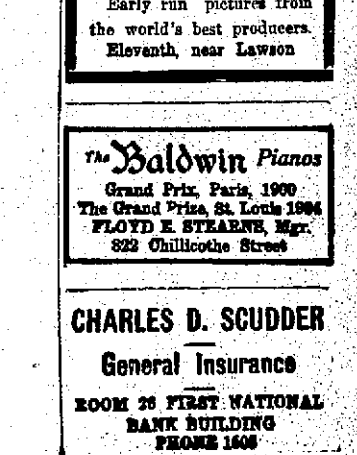

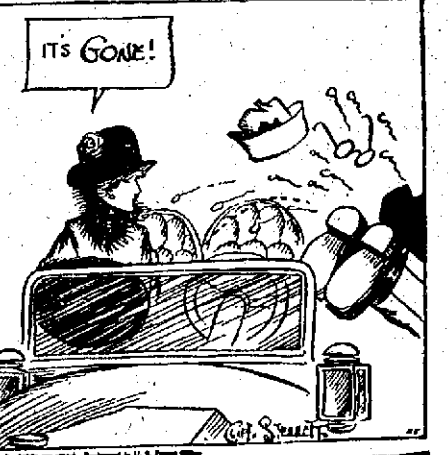

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.

Thief Shows Disregard For Safety Of Trail Users, Steals Lanterns

Three out of five danger lanterns placed on the ditch for gas mains on Route 1, north of Hempstead, were stolen sometime Thursday night.

Superintendent John McMillan, of the Portsmouth Gas Company, said Friday that if the guilty persons are caught they will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. In taking the lanterns, the vandals make the gas company liable for damage, as persons might drive into the open ditch.

Drivers of all vehicles would do well to remember that there is an open ditch on the west side of the road north of the hospital.

The Movies

"The Juggernaut" Vitagraph's Smashing Railroad Feature With Anita Stewart and Earle Williams at the Lyric Today.

That stupendous wreck story "The Juggernaut" in five thrilling reels will be the feature at the Lyric today and it will be your last chance to see the most astounding piece of photography ever accomplished. Anita Stewart and Earle Williams are the stars in the big dramatic story that is woven around this thrilling, hair-raising scene. Come and see it. The admission will be only ten cents, afternoon and evening.

Tomorrow brings another extraordinary offering in Porter Emerson Browne's big, human drama of today, "The Spendthrift," with beautiful Irene Fenwick starring and supported by a cast of all recognized Broadway stars including Cyril Kiehl, Malcolm Duncan and Matty Ferguson. The story of "The Spendthrift" is powerful, dramatic and every detail of the picture is perfect.

Who has reared the perfect child? Who has successfully combated the destiny-shaping factors of heredity and environment with a theoretical code of child-raising warranted never to fail?

Mrs. Gretchen Jans, mistress of millions, failed. Her two pretty nieces, Frances and Clarice were taught to sew and mend, economize and retrench, not alone in clothes and money but in thought and emotion as well. "Plug up the fountain of youth" was the harsh, Puritanical code of Gretchen Jans, and Frances paid the penalty with heart-aches.

And then came the second man with his offer of money and the trail of suffering and self-abasement that followed in his wake. It seemed all very innocent to Frances but it was tragedy to Richard.

$838.25 VERDICT WAS RETURNED FOR PLAINTIFF

Verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $838.25 was awarded by a jury in common pleas court Thursday afternoon in the damage case of Eliza King against the United Fuel Gas Company.

The plaintiff sued for $2,000 damages alleged to have been sustained when the defendant turned off the gas supply to her home on November 30, 1914, which she claimed caused her to be seriously ill and resulted in the loss of boarders.

The jury unanimously granted her the following sums after being out but a short time: $730 damages through illness; $100 damages for loss of boarders; and $8.25 for physician's services; total, $838.25.

After the verdict was announced, Attorney George M. Osborn, for the defendant, gave notice that he would file a motion for a new trial. The attorneys in the case were Miller, Miller and Seal for the plaintiff, and Altizer and Osborn for the defendant.

will take place from the Roscoe church at Hales Creek, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock instead of Saturday morning, as originally planned.

The jury unanimously granted her the following sums after being out but a short time: $730 damages through illness; $100 damages for loss of boarders; and $8.25 for physician's services; total, $838.25.

After the verdict was announced, Attorney George M. Osborn, for the defendant, gave notice that he would file a motion for a new trial. The attorneys in the case were Miller, Miller and Seal for the plaintiff, and Altizer and Osborn for the defendant.

Ladies Aid Society Will Pay For Organ Ordered By Bigelow

A three manual pipe-organ, which when installed, will be one of the finest in Ohio, has been ordered for the Bigelow M. E. church and it will be manufactured by Felgusmeyer & Company, of Erie, Pa. Ten bids were submitted, and when canvassed last night Felgusmeyer & Company were found to be the lowest. The approximate cost of the organ is $5,000 and it is to be assembled and ready for use by April 1, 1916.

The Ladies Aid Society of Bigelow will pay for the organ and they have the money on hand now to meet the expenditure.

Ben Dillon is chairman of the music committee, that awarded the contract to the Erie firm. Mr. Dillon says the organ will be a magnificent affair and will practically be the last word in pipe organs.

Printer Is Missing; May Be In This City

The local authorities have received an urgent request from Police Chief W. S. Rowe, of Cleveland, asking them to assist in the search for one H. C. Williams, aged 45 years, general manager of the National Ticket company of that city.

According to Chief Rowe the missing man has been missing from his home in Cleveland since last Thursday afternoon.

His family received a letter from him dated October 31, last, from the hotel, Portsmouth, stating that he was going to Huntington, W. Va. It is thought that he had not the means to go there and that he is still in Portsmouth.

Williams is a printer.

Flashlight Revealed Prowler, Believe Robbery Is Frustrated

The lucky act of a next-door neighbor woman, Mrs. Charles Koger, in playing the rays of a flashlight upon a prowler hiding between the two houses probably frustrated a robbery at the home of Charles Wood, a contracting carpenter, of No. 922 Eighth street, Wednesday night, about 10:30.

Mrs. Koger was startled by a noise outside and a moment later plainly heard footsteps. She called to her daughter for the flashlight and discovered a man crouched between the two houses. He bolted from the premises. Mrs. Wood, who with her daughter had just returned from the Baptist Sunday school social at the Brunner building on Chillicothe street, heard him running through the yard and called the police.

Chief P. E. Allen made a thorough search of the neighborhood, but without result. Prowlers have been particularly active in that vicinity and several petty thefts have occurred there in the past year.

BIRTHS

A fine little son was born November 2 to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Alexander, of Richmond, Va. It has been named Stewart Lee, and is the fourth son in this interesting family. Mrs. Alexander was formerly Miss Beulah Bierley, of this city; and is a daughter of H. A. Bierley, well-known real estate dealer.

Wood Alcohol.

Wood alcohol is used largely as a solvent and for various chemical purposes. Beech, birch and maple are the best woods for the production of wood distillation products. Elm, chestnut and cherry are not desirable woods for the wood distillation industry, because they contain too much tannin, gum, etc.

Perfect Vision.

"You big mutt," said the batter as the umpire called the third strike, "that was a poor outside. What's the matter with your eyes?"

"Nothing at all," replied the arbitrator in chilling tones. "I can see from here to the clubhouse, and if I don't see you over there in five minutes I'll cost you $50."—Philadelphia Ledger.

He beat it.

"Where did you steal that not from?" demanded the policeman as he seized the tramp.

"I didn't steal it," said the tramp. "A lady up the street gave it to me and told me to beat it."—Exchange.

POVERTY.

Poverty, my dear friend, is so great an evil and pregnant with so much temptation and so much misery that I cannot but earnestly entreat you to avoid it. Live on what you have; live if you can on less. Do not borrow either for vanity or pleasure. The vanity will end in shame and the pleasure in regret.—Samuel Johnson.

PERFECTION.

That historian who would describe a favorite character as faultless raises another at the expense of himself. Zeus made five virgins contribute their charms to his single picture of Helen, and it is as vain for the moralist to look for perfection in the mind as for the painter to expect to find it in the body.—Colton.

Was New to Pat.

On arriving in this country Pat was met at the pier by his brother Mike, who had been in America some years, and was taken to his home. Early on the following morning the new arrival was awakened by an alarm clock, an invention that was entirely new to him.

"Silence and Olay, Mike," he exclaimed, springing out of bed. "The nights here in America must be the longest of any place in the world."

"Regorra, Olay, don't know about that," was the sleeping rejoinder of Brother Mike. "What makes you think so?"

"Didn't see that clock?" returned Pat, pointing toward the bureau. "It must have struck at least a thousand."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

How To Get Rid of a Bad Cough

A Home-Made Remedy that Will Do It Quickly, Cheap and Easily Made.

If you have a bad cough or chest cold which refuses to yield to ordinary remedies, get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, (50 cents bottle), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Start taking a teaspoonful every hour or two. In 24 hours your cough will be conquered or very nearly so. Even whooping cough is greatly relieved in this way.

The above mixture makes a full pint—a family supply—of the finest cough syrup that money could buy—not a cent of only 50 cents. Easily prepared in 5 minutes. Full directions with Pinex.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup preparation takes right hold of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough in a way that is really remarkable. Also quickly breaks the inflamed membranes which accompany a painful cough, and the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent, long cough. Beneficial for bronchitis, spasmodic croup and whooping cough. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.—Children like it.

CHARLES JUSTUS IS ADDED TO POLICE FORCE

Charles Justus, a former N. & W. engineer, received a 60-day provisional appointment to the police force at the hands of Director John Linck, of the public safety department, Friday morning and was at once sworn in.

Justus and the two men appointed Thursday, Herbert Watson and Jeff Rayburn, will be assigned to the night force for duty. Chief L. E. Allen expecting to make some shifts of beats this evening. They are appointed to fill the vacancies created by the leaving of the city of Officer Isaac Mason, on a 90-day leave of absence and the recent dismissal of Officers Jake Cooper and Delbert Campbell for fighting.

All three of the new officers have done special police duty before, and Justus was employed last summer as private policeman at the Peerless bathing beach.

ON THE BENCH WITH JUDGE McHUGH

JAMES EDMUND DUFFY

Hogan family is away to the shore for the summer," said Judge McHugh, "and, pray, be I do feel sorry for poor Barney. That woman in his, an' his two daughters, have too high ideas of a peaceful man like him. What that man wants to make him contented is not a wushin' but a day in the ocean, but a pipe in every an' a daily argument with Diny Joyce, the bridge-finder. The clatter in the house on the red-hot pavement is what he like to hear than the ending summer days, an' not the roar in the river valley ocean."

"He never liked water anyhow," added the court attendant.

"No more this, ye do yourself," said the Judge. "Hogan was in Cassidy's last night to say 'arry bye,' or what ever it is. It's rich say when they're leavin' ye, an' he was all broke up. 'Where are they takin' ye, Barney?' says I. 'By gar, Judge,' says he, 'I know no more about it than you,' he says. 'You have me write out a check,' he says, 'an' give me instructions to be ready by six in the mornin'.' he says. 'It's the reminder in the summer,' he says, 'when you an' Cassidy an' Kolly, an' the rest in the le-ads,' he says, 'are enjoyin' life here in the winter,' he says, 'I'll be straight to death,' he says, 'in a bled shirt,' he says, 'an' a collar,' he says, 'that wad come to the artist in any way who put it on a dawg for cruelty to animals,' he says. 'Futh,' he says, 'with a tear in his eye, I wad never win into the contractin' business. I wish I wad still a poor man,' he says, 'an' I'm sure I'm a poor man, a day,' he says, 'in the soup factory,' he says. 'This was the day I was happy, an' knowed peace,' he says. 'They was no jobs or dinnin' in the family in this days,' he says, 'an' a rum up corn beef on the table in a Sunday made us all happy for the rest of the week,' he says. 'Bad day to the day I became a vintner some an' dug the sewer for Alderman Finagun,' he says. 'We both made as much money as the city lost, but we got our health in life,' he says. 'I wad 'tired stop,' he says. 'But luck, if ye want to call it that, is wile me,' he says. 'I have no peace no more,' he says. 'When I get up in the mornin' the th' of lady's voice I hear. I must take me bath the first thing,' he says. 'Can ye imagine such a thing?' he says. 'Talkin' a bath wad be a day,' he says. 'Me skin I'd be gone out before I'm much older,' he says, 'an' I'll be a fine lookin' object,' he says, 'walkin' up to the Sunday mornin' wad an' any skin,' he says. 'The th' of his run in me,' he says, 'I'd indecent exposure,' he says, 'an' that'd be a fine disgrace in me of days,' he says. 'I don't want to go away from the wad,' he says. 'I wish the flies are beginnin' to bite,' he says. 'I wad to walk down the street in an afternoon,' he says, 'when the thermometer is no longer able to restrain this thing,' he says. 'When the heat,' he says, 'is runnin' like this, an' every day is happy an' joyful in the th' of summer days,' he says. 'What fun like that can ye have at the wad?' he says. 'But what I miss most,' he says, 'is the wad,' he says. 'Glorious,' he says, 'is the wad,' he says, 'to take me away to the th' of the wad,' he says, 'when Diner, the little number down by the bridge, is about to go to the saints an' angels,' he says. 'I do not only stay until after Diner was planted,' he says, 'it wad be so bad,' he says, 'but to leave before Diner,' he says, 'is more than I can stand,' he says, 'and a sigh.' 'Do the Dorsey have big wades,' he says, 'an' the court attendant. 'They do that,' said the Judge. 'The Dorsey have never frozen their arse th'rin'.' 'Ye'll never go dry at the wad is a Dorsey.' 'Her Very Clear Thoughts. 'Well, nunty, what are your thoughts about murrin'?' asked a young woman in Scotland the other day of her aunt, a decent body who had reached the shady side of life without having committed matrimony. 'Deed, lassie,' frankly replied the old lady, 'I've had but three thoughts about it 'a' my days, an' the last is like to be the longest. First, then, when I was young, like you, I thought, 'What'll I tak'?' Then, as time began to wear by, I thought, 'What'll I get?' An' after I got my leg broken by that whurmel out of Saunders McDunthrie, I thought my thoughts ayaw like him, 'What'll I tak' me?'

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Secret.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normal and active. Without these organs, the system, polluting the blood with various poisons, wastes, and toxins, becomes flabby, obese, and old."

"But to get liver and bowels working properly, without products and after-effects, is a difficult task. Fortunately, there is a prescription of one vegetable tablet, which is a natural, healthy, and safe way to keep the system clean and youthful."

"This is a natural, healthy, and safe way to keep the system clean and youthful. It is a natural, healthy, and safe way to keep the system clean and youthful. It is a natural, healthy, and safe way to keep the system clean and youthful."
